HERMAN FRANKS, Manager

Herman Louis Franks is a winner.

He spent most of his baseball career with the San Francisco Giants before being selected to manage the Chicago Cubs in 1977. The Giants' franchise is the only team in the history of the game to win more National League pennants (18) than the Cubs (16). He hopes to reverse that edge during his tour on the North Side as field manager of the Cubs.

Franks, who was born January 4, 1915, at Price, Utah, recorded an impressive 367-280 record as a manager for the Giants from 1965 through the 1968 seasons. Although the flag eluded him, he guided the Giants to a runnerup position in each of the four years. In his rookie managerial campaign, Franks' team posted a 95-67 record and was only two games behind the leader when the season ended. It was only a one-and-a-half game margin in 1966 with a 93-68 total.

He started his baseball career as a 17-year-old catcher in 1932 with the Hollywood Club in the Pacific Coast League. When he hung up his playing spikes, in 1949, Franks had six years in the majors with St. Louis (1939), Brooklyn (1940-41), Philadelphia Athletics (1947-48), and the New York Giants in 1949. The other portions of his playing years were in the minor leagues except for a four-year stint in the U.S. Armed Forces (1942-46).

Franks has coached for the Giants (1949-55, 1958, and 1964) and with the Cubs part of the 1971 season when Leo Durocher hired him to substitute for the ailing Joe Becker. Franks scouted for the Giants in 1957 and 1959-60.

Herman was general manager at Salt Lake City in the Pacific Coast League when he gave a 42-year-old former White Sox and Cleveland third baseman-outfielder a job as manager of the Salt Lake team. In December of 1976, this man—Robert D. Kennedy—was named vice president-baseball operations of the Chicago Cubs and promptly talked Franks into returning to baseball as his field manager.

Franks, who is reportedly astute in investments, has helped many players financially with his knowledge in this area. According to veteran writers, Franks has probably done more for the great Willie Mays on and off the field than any other individual.

COACHING STAFF

ALVIN DARK

Alvin Dark brought impressive baseball credentials with him when he rejoined the Chicago Cubs as a first base coach in 1977. In 1948, his first major league season, he batted .322, won Rookie-of-the-Year honors and helped guide the Braves to the National League pennant. With the New York Giants he played on pennant winning teams in 1951 and 1954 as well as making the All-Star team both years. Dark is one of three managers in history to win a pennant in both major leagues, leading the Giants to the N.L. crown in 1962 and the Oakland A's to A.L. title in 1974. Dark played for the Chicago Cubs from 1957-1958 and was a member of the Cubs coaching staff in 1965.

RANDY HUNDLEY

Randy Hundley, who spent nine of his 13 years in the majors catching for the Chicago Cubs, was signed as the bullpen coach before the 1977 season. Randy signed his first professional contract with the San Francisco Giants organization in 1960, played with the Giants briefly in 1964 and 1965 and joined the Cubs for the 1966 season. Randy was rated as one of the better defensive catchers earning the Golden Glove Award in 1967. He established the following major league records: Most home runs, catcher, rookie season (19), 1966; most games, catcher, season (160), 1968; highest fielding average, catcher, season (150 or more games), .996, in 1967; fewest errors by catcher, season (150 or more games), 4, in 1967. He led the National League catchers in doubleplays with 17 in 1969.

HARRY (PEANUTS) LOWREY

Harry (Peanuts) Lowrey was named as the Chicago Cubs third base coach prior to the 1977 campaign. Lowrey broke into the majors with the Cubs in 1942 and played with Chicago until 1949, with the highlight of his career coming in the 1945 World Series when he hit .310. He also appeared in the 1946 All-Star game. Lowrey began his major league coaching career with the Philadelphia Phillies in 1960, coached the Giants from 1967-68, the Expos in 1969, served on the Cubs coaching staff during 1970-71 and coached for the Angels in 1972. Peanuts managed three minor league clubs in 1957-58, and 1960.

GEORGE (BARNEY) SCHULTZ

George (Barney) Schultz was selected as pitching coach for the Chicago Cubs prior to the 1977 season. Schultz joined the Cub organization on May 17, 1976, as the pitching coach for their Wichita Aeros affiliate (AAA). He started his professional baseball career in 1944. Schultz played for the Cubs from 1961-63, compiling a 13-11 record. A knuckleball specialist, Barney had a major league career mark of 20-20 with 264 strikeouts in 347 innings. His best year was in 1964, when he posted a 1.65 ERA and played a major role in a dramatic Cardinal finish that gave St. Louis their first pennant in 18 years and a World Series triumph over the New York Yankees. After finishing his playing days with St. Louis in 1965, he served as their minor league pitching instructor from 1967-70 and as Cardinal pitching coach from 1971-75.

THE 1977 CUB PLAYERS

(Note: The last names are listed first in the large, bold type preceding each biography. Next is his nickname, position(s), height, weight, how he bats and throws, and his date and place of birth.)

BIITTNER, Larry 1B-OF
Born 7/27/47 Pocahontas, IA

Acquired: With Steve Renko from Montreal Expos for Andy Thornton on May 17, 1976.

Personal: Larry David Biittner is married and has two sons. In the off-season they reside in Arlington, Texas. Larry is a graduate of Pocahontas (IA) Catholic High and attended Drake University (Des Moines, IA), and Buena Vista College (Storm Lake, IA), majoring in physical education. His religion is Catholic, has brown hair and blue eyes and enjoys hunting, fishing, and golf. Larry is a teacher in the off-season.

Prior to Majors: Biittner excelled in basketball as well as baseball at Pocahontas (IA) Catholic High School. In fact, he enrolled at Drake University on a full basketball scholarship, but later switched to Buena Vista College at Storm Lake, Iowa, to concentrate on baseball. While attending the latter, he was on the 1967 and 1968 All-Iowa Conference Team, and in 1968 was elected to the NAIA All-American Team. Biittner was originally signed to a professional contract by the Washington Senators in 1968. He had an outstanding minor league season with Pittsfield in the Eastern League (Class AA) in 1970. He batted .3247, but was nosed out of the league batting title by Reading's Greg Luzinski (now with the Philadelphia Phillies) who had a .3248. Larry's performance earned him a berth on Topp's Class-AA All-Star Team.

Major Leagues: Larry moved from Washington to Texas when the Senators changed to the Rangers. Texas traded him on December 20, 1973, to the Montreal Expos for the contract of pitcher Pat Jarvis. In his first full season with the Expos (1975), Biittner batted .315 to lead the team in hitting. He was very consistent that year as verified by the fact he batted .323 at home, .306 on the road, .312 in day games, .317 in night games, .321 on natural grass, and .295 on synthetic surface. He only struck out 33 times in 121 games that season. After he joined the Cubs, Larry batted .245 in 78 games and fanned only nine times in 89 total games in 1976. He played part of the season with an injured hand after being hit with a ball. Larry is a line drive hitter who can spray the ball to all fields. A perfect example was June 19 when he went four-for-four. Two of the hits were lined to center field, one to left, and the other to right center. Last season, Larry hit the best against Atlanta (.467), San Diego (.333), and—his former teammates—Montreal (.320).

BONHAM, Bill — P
6'3" — 195 lb. — R-R
Born 10/1/48 — Glendale, CA

Acquired: Signed by the Chicago Cubs.

Personal: William Gordon Bonham is married and resides in Pacoima, CA, in the off-season. Bill was graduated at Polytechnic High School (Sun Valley, CA), attended Los Angeles Valley College (Van Nuys, CA), and majored in psychology at UCLA. He has brown hair and green eyes and his hobbies include fishing, running, and reading.

Prior to Majors: Bill started his baseball career by participating in Little League, Pony League, Colt League and American Legion ball. In high school, he was voted the most outstanding pitcher during his senior year, 1966. In 1968, while attending Los Angeles Valley College (Van Nuys, CA), he posted a 3-5 mark with a 1.44 ERA. Bill went to UCLA where, in 1970, he earned a 4-5 mark, recorded a 2.60 ERA, struck out 100 in 83 innings and was voted UCLA's Outstanding Pitcher. Bonham was signed to his first contract by Gene Handley of the Cubs. Bill pitched only 26 games in the minors before joining the Cubs during his second season as a professional pitcher in 1971. After a brief stint with the big club in 1971, Bill returned to the minors as a member of the Wichita Aeros of the American Association (Class AAA) where he started all 18 games in which he pitched.

Major Leagues: He started the 1972 season with Wichita of the American Association (Class AAA), but was brought up for the second swing. In his first full major league season, 1973, Bill started 15 games and appeared in a total of 44, recording a 3.02 ERA. In 1974, Bill led the National League in assists (54), was sixth in the league in strikeouts with 191, and posted an ERA of 3.85. Bill peaked to a high point in his career in 1975, when he pitched a two-hitter against the Dodgers in Los Angeles on May 20 and won 13 games, his career high as a professional. Also in 1975, he led the team in strikeouts with 165 and tied Ray Burris for the team lead with two shutouts. Starting 31 games and completing three in 1976, Bill pitched 196 innings, striking out 110 to surpass the 100 mark for the fourth consecutive season. Bill had considerable success vs. Philadelphia last season by posting a 2.16 ERA against the Eastern Division Champs.

BUCKNER, Bill — OF-1B
Born 12/14/49 — Vallejo, CA

Acquired: With Ivan DeJesus and Jeff Albert from Los Angeles Dodgers for Rick Monday and Mike Garman on January 11, 1977.

Personal: William Joseph Buckner is married and resides in Woodland Hills, CA. He is a graduate of Napa (CA) High School.

Prior to Majors: Buckner enjoyed a stellar prep career at Napa High School, where he was a standout in both baseball and football. He was an outstanding wide receiver on the gridiron, being named to the Coaches' All-America team in his junior and senior years, as well as being named to the Northern California Football Hall of Fame. In baseball, Bill hit .667 as a junior and .529 as a senior. Buckner was the Dodgers second selection in the 1968 June Free Agent Draft and he passed up over 60 collegiate football scholarship offers to sign with the Dodgers following his prep career. Buckner has hit .300 in every league he's played in on the professional level starting in 1968 at Ogden, Utah, where his .344 average led the Pioneer League (Rookie Class). He also led the league in games (64), at bats (256), and hits (88). In 1970, his final year in the minors before being elevated permanently, he batted .335 for Spokane (WA), finishing a close third in the race for the Pacific Coast League (Class AAA) batting title.

Major Leagues: Buckner's first full season in the majors was in 1971 when he hit .277 for the Dodgers and served primarily as a first baseman. His great potential showed in his second season when he batted a career-high .319 in 105 games. While his average dipped to .275 in 1973, he finished third on the Dodgers in hit production with 158. Bill enjoyed his most productive season in 1974 when he hit .314, fourth best in the National League, stole a career-high 31 bases and had a 17-game hitting streak (longest on the Dodgers) in leading the club to the N.L. pennant. Buckner's most frustrating season was 1975 when a severely sprained ankle hampered him throughout the year and eventually required surgery. He rebounded by playing in 154 games in 1976 with a batting average of .301 and 28 stolen bases. His 193 hits and 60 runs batted in represent personal career highs. Bill showed consistency at the plate in 1976 by never going hitless in more than two successive games, hitting .304 in Los Angeles and .298 on the road, posting a .296 average prior to the All-Star Game and .307 after. Buckner collected four hits on three occasions, had 10 games with three hits and had two hits in 44 other games. He scored the winning run for the Dodgers 12 times last season while driving in the decisive run on six other occasions. His longest hitting streak last season was 12 games and his best performances came against Montreal (.413), Pittsburgh (.405) and San Francisco (.390). Bill struck out only 26 times in 1976 and was the third toughest N.L. batter to fan with one strike out every 26.15 trips to the plate.

BURRIS, Ray — P
6'5" — 195 lb. — R-R
Born 8/22/50 — Idabel, OK

Acquired: Signed by the Chicago Cubs.

Personal: Bertram Ray Burris is married and has one son. They reside in nearby Schaumburg, IL. Ray was graduated at Duke (OK) High School and majored in recreational leadership at Southwestern State in Weatherford, OK. Ray has black hair and brown eyes and his hobbies include fishing, hunting, traveling, basketball, coins, and pool. He is a member of the Church of God in Christ and does promotional marketing during the winter months.

Prior to Majors: Burris participated in Little League and American Legion baseball. He played semi-pro ball for the Lawton (OK) Pepsis and helped lead the club to the Oklahoma State Championship in 1970-71 and was named to the all-state team both years. Ray was on both baseball and basketball teams in high school. At Southwestern State College, he played baseball and basketball earning four varsity baseball letters. In 1971, his junior year, he won 16 and lost 4 with a 1.50 ERA in helping lead Oklahoma College to a NAIA District Nine title. He was named to All-District and NAIA All-American first teams that season. In his senior year, Ray compiled a 9-4 record with a 2.06 ERA, striking out 93 and walking only 13 in 83 innings earning his selection to all-conference and all-district teams. Burris was signed to his first contract by Bill Capps after he was selected by the Cubs in the 17th round of the 1972 free agent draft. Ray was assigned to Bradenton, FL, in the Gulf Coast League (Rookie Class), and after a short stay devoted entirely to pitching batting practice, was promoted to Midland in the Class AA Texas League. He started his second year in pro ball with the Cubs' Wichita farm club in the American Association (Class AAA).

Major Leagues: Ray's greatest baseball thrill was "going to the major leagues my second year in pro ball." He picked up his first major league win in his first start on April 18, 1973, when he pitched five shutout innings against the New York Mets. Burris began the 1975 season as a starter and notched his first complete game in his first start of the year gaining a 2-1 decision over the Expos. The first shutout of his career came against the Atlanta Braves on May 26, 1975, as he yielded only four hits. He won his last five decisions of the season, three being complete games, to raise his record to 15-10 and led the Cub pitching staff in victories, complete games (8), most innings pitched (238), and tied Bill Bonham for the lead in shutouts with two. Ray got the nod to pitch the 1976 opener in St. Louis, the first time he had been accorded the honor. After a disappointing 3-11 start in 1976 Ray turned it around in July to become one of the most effective pitchers in the National League. He won 11 of his last 13 decisions and pitched nine complete games in his last 17 starts, including four shutouts, posting a 2.64 ERA. He tied the National League season high with 25 consecutive shutout innings. Burris was named the National League Pitcher of the Month for August when he was 6-1 with a 1.89 ERA. He had four complete games during the month and walked only seven while striking out 21 in 57 innings. He led the team for the second straight year in victories (15), complete games (10), and shutouts (4). Ray was most effective against Montreal last season winning four of five starts, with three complete games, two shutouts, and a 1.35 ERA.

CARDENAL, Jose OF
5'10" 150 lb. R-R
Born 10/7/43 Matanzas, Cuba

Acquired: In trade with Milwaukee Brewers for Brock Davis, Jim Colborn, and Earl Stevenson on Dec. 3, 1971.

Personal: Jose Domec Cardenal is married, has one daughter, and resides in Northbrook, IL, a Chicago suburb. Jose attended Jose Marti School (Matanzas). His hobbies are sports cars and snowmobiling. Jose's older brother, Pedro Cardenal, also an outfielder, played pro ball from 1953-64. Jose is the cousin of Texas Ranger's Bert Campaneris.

Prior to Majors: Signed to first professional baseball contract by the San Francisco Giants after his prep career at Jose Marti High. He immediately was successful by leading the Sophomore League (Class D) in runs (159), total bases (336), home runs (35), doubles (39) and stolen bases (64) in 1961 at El Paso. He was also second in runs-batted-in (108) and third in batting (.355) to easily gain a berth on the loop all-star squad. In 1962, he paced all Pacific Coast League (Class AAA) outfielders with six double plays. In 1963, Jose drilled three home runs in his first Texas League (Class AAA) game and went on to finish second in fourbaggers (36) and stolen bases (35) to again earn a position on the league all-star squad. In 1964, he tied for the Pacific Coast League lead in stolen bases (40).

Major Leagues: On Nov. 21, 1964, Jose was traded to Los Angeles Angels for Jack Hiatt. Cardenal, always colorful and always unpredictable, hit a home run off New York's Whitey Ford on opening day at Anaheim in 1965 during his first time at bat in the American League. He was named to Topps Major League Rookie All-Star Team that same year. Nov. 27, 1967, he was traded to the Cleveland Indians for Chuck Hinton. In 1968, Jose's 40 stolen bases ranked second in the circuit, and his two unassisted double plays tied the major league season record for outfielders. On Nov. 29, 1969, Cardenal was traded by the Indians to St. Louis for Vada Pinson. July 29, 1971, Cardenal was traded along with Dick Schofield and Bob Reynolds to Milwaukee Brewers for Ted Kubiak and Charlie Loseth. After he was acquired by the Cubs, prior to '72 season, Jose has never batted below .291 and twice exceeded the .300 mark. His .303 in 1973, seventh in National League batting race, earned him the Chicago Player of Year Award by the local chapter of the BBWAA. In 1975, he etched his highest major league batting average with a .317 to share the eighth rung in the batting ladder with Cincinnati's Pete Rose. Last year, hitting over .300 most of the season, he dropped only one hit (.0001 point) below the coveted mark, then was sidelined the rest of the season with a leg injury forcing him to settle for a .2994 finish. In 1976, Jose batted over .300 against five clubs (.327 vs. SD, .333 vs. Atl, .361 vs. St. L, .364 vs. SF, and .394 vs. Mtl) and was runnerup for high man on the Cubs against the latter four. He led or tied for the team high in the following categories: vs. St.L (12 R, 22 H, 6 2B), vs. Atl (4 SB), vs. Cin (8 R, 6 SB), vs. SD (16 H, 5 2B), vs. SF (16 H). Jose rapped six hits (7 is major league record) in an 11-inning contest on May 2 (2nd game) against San Francisco and hit three doubles on May 5 against Los Angeles to tie teammate Bill Madlock and three other players for the N.L. high in one game last season. Jose also had six consecutive safeties against St. Louis (games of Sept. 4 & 5) for the team high in 1976. For the fifth straight season, Cardenal led his teammates in stolen bases (23).

CLINES, Gene OF
5'9" 170 lb. R-R
Born 10/6/46 San Pablo, CA

Acquired: With cash from the Texas Rangers for Darold Knowles on Feb. 5, 1977.

Personal: Eugene Anthony Clines is married and resides in York, Pennsylvania during the off season. He is a graduate of Harry Ells High School in Richmond, CA.

Prior to Majors: Gene's first year in professional baseball was in 1966 with Salem, VA, of the Appalachian League (Rookie Class). That season he hit .358 and led the league in hits (63) and tied for the league lead in triples (4). In 1968 Clines was playing for York, PA, in the Eastern League (Class AA) and he led outfielders in assists with 16. In 1969 he played third base for York and led all Eastern League third baseman in putouts (153) and assists (224) and led the league in stolen bases with 63 successful thefts. In 1970 he again led the Eastern League in steals when he had 32 successful attempts with Waterbury, CT.

Major Leagues: Gene made the jump to the majors from Class AA ball in 1970 when the Pirates called on him and he responded with a .405 batting average in 31 games. Clines hasn't been back to the minor leagues since. His best season was 1972 when he hit .334 in 107 games but lacked the necessary at-bats to qualify for the batting title. He won a starting job with the Pirates in mid-June of 1973, but was sidelined a month later when he tore ligaments in his right ankle against the San Diego Padres. Gene proved last season that he is a good clutch hitter as he hit .436 with runners in scoring position and two outs. He should do well in Wrigley Field as he had a .325 season average for day games.

COLEMAN, Joe — P
6'3" — 195 lb. — R-R
Born 2/3/47 — Boston, MA

Acquired: For cash, and a player to be named later, from Detroit Tigers on June 8, 1976.

Personal: Joseph Howard Coleman is married, has a daughter, and resides in Lathrup Village, MI. He is a graduate of Natick (MA) High School. His religion is Catholic, and his hobby is playing golf. Joe has brown hair and hazel eyes. Joe is the son of righthander Joseph Patrick Coleman who pitched for the Philadelphia Athletics, Baltimore Orioles, and Detroit Tigers in the 1940's and 1950's.

Prior to Majors: Coleman was the first selection of the Washington Senators in the first free agent draft in June 1965. Joe spent only three partial seasons in the minors, pitching in only 48 games and 306 innings as a minor leaguer.

Major Leagues: Joe has been in the major leagues every year that he has been in professional baseball. The Senators brought Joe up from their Burlington, N.C., affiliate (Class A) in his first year of pro baseball (1965). He won his first major league start less than four months after his high school graduation by going the distance to defeat the Kansas City A's. In his only other appearance that season, he went the distance to beat the Detroit Tigers. His rookie stats were impressive compiling a 2-0 record with two complete games and only nine hits in 18 innings. During the 1969 campaign he notched three straight shutouts and put together a string of 31 consecutive scoreless innings. In 1971, he was traded to the Detroit Tigers, a team he compiled an 8-0 record against, and blossomed rapidly posting a 20-9 mark with a 3.15 ERA. Winning 20 games that season is especially significant because he missed the first three weeks of the season after he sustained a head injury when hit by a line drive off the bat of Ted Simmons during a spring training contest. Three 1-0 losses in 1972 (19-14) kept Joe from three consecutive seasons with 20-or-more wins as he posted a 23-15 record in 1973. He struck out over 200 batters in each of those three campaigns, peaking with 236 in 1971. In 1976 after joining the Cubs, Coleman held Houston, Los Angeles, and San Diego without an earned run in six appearances. Joe's longest string without allowing an earned run last season was 16.1 innings from Aug. 13 through Sept. 3 in which he allowed only nine hits while fanning 10.

DE JESUS, Ivan — SS
5'11" — 175 lb. — R-R
Born 1/9/53 — Santurce, P.R.

Acquired: With Bill Buckner and Jeff Albert from the Los Angeles Dodgers for Rick Monday and Mike Garman on January 11, 1977.

Personal: Ivan Alvarez De Jesus is married, has one daughter, and resides in Santurce, P.R., in the off-season.

Prior to the Majors: De Jesus was signed to his first pro contract by the Los Angeles Dodgers in 1969 while still in high school and he was sent immediately to Daytona Beach of the Florida State League (Class A). He remained on the Class A level for four years until 1974 when he was elevated to Albuquerque, N.M., where he hit .298 and was named to the Pacific Coast League (Class AAA) All-Star team. He had his best season in 1976 when he posted a .304 average in 108 games with 64 runs-batted-in and 31 stolen bases. His seven home runs were the third highest on the team as were his doubles (27) and triples (7).

Major Leagues: Ivan was first elevated to the majors in 1974 and has spent a portion of three seasons on the top level. He appeared in 63 games for the Dodgers in 1975 as he got the opportunity to play on a semi-regular basis when Bill Russell was out with an injured knee. In 1976 he played in 22 games for Los Angeles with his best performances coming against the Atlanta Braves with six hits in 21 at bats for a .286 average. Scouting reports on De Jesus say he is an excellent defensive shortstop with very good range and a good, strong arm.

FRAILING, Ken — P
Born 1/19/48 — Marion, WI

Acquired: With Steve Stone, Jim Kremmel and Steve Swisher from Chicago White Sox for Ron Santo on Dec. 11, 1973.

Personal: Kenneth Douglas Frailing is married, has a daughter, and resides in Sarasota, FL, in the off-season. Ken was graduated at Marion (WI) High School and majored in education at University of Wisconsin in River Falls, WI. Ken's religion is Catholic and his hobbies include reading and golf. He has brown hair and blue eyes and is a salesman during the winter months.

Prior to Majors: Ken participated in Little League and American Legion baseball programs. At Marion (WI) High School he played baseball, basketball, and football. In his senior year he pitched consecutive no-hitters and helped lead the team to third place in the Wisconsin State Tournament. Marion won three consecutive Central Wisconsin Conference Baseball Championships while Ken was in school. He pitched semi-pro ball for the Marion Meisters and led the club to league championships in 1964-65. He played baseball in college at the University of Wisconsin at River Falls. Frailing was signed to his first pro contract by the Chicago White Sox. In 1970, he was tenth in ERA (2.71) in the Southern League (Class AA). In 1973, he was second in ERA (2.86) in the American Association (Class AAA), third in complete games (12), and was named to the league all-star team.

Major Leagues: One of Ken's greatest baseball thrills was pitching his first major league game in Yankee Stadium when he was with the White Sox. His first major league win was on Sept. 5, 1972, when he beat the Minnesota Twins and his first complete game in the majors came on May 27, 1974, when he beat the Giants 12-4. In 1976, Ken appeared in six games for the Cubs, three starts and recorded a 2.37 ERA in 18.2 innings pitched. He was sidelined much of the year with a shoulder injury.

Born 1/18/55 — Windber, PA

Acquired: Signed by the Chicago Cubs.

Personal: John David Geisel is single and resides in Tonawanda, New York, in the off-season. He was graduated at Tonawanda High School. Dave's religion is Catholic, and his hobbies include cooking, fishing, hunting, music and cards. Dave has brown hair and eyes.

Prior to Majors: Geisel played Little League, Babe Ruth, and for Tonawanda in the All-American Amateur Baseball Federation. He played basketball and was captain of his baseball team in high school where he was All-Niagara Frontier League selection. He pitched three no-hitters in seven starts and struck out 21 consecutive batters in one game. He was signed to a Cub contract by Ralph DiLullo. He won 20 and lost only 12 in his first two seasons of professional baseball. In the 1975 Arizona Winter Instructional League he recorded a 2.85 earned run average and struck out 38 in 41 innings. He also pitched for Escogido in the 1975-76 Dominican Winter League. He is a big, strong lefthander and one obvious factor stands out in this prospect's favor: he just turned 22 years old in January. He has plenty of development time available at that young age. It also should be noted that, although he did not play college ball, he has never pitched below double-A classification which is very impressive for a player beginning his fourth pro season at his age.

GORDON, Mike C
6'3" 216 lb. S-R
Born 9/11/53 Leominster, MA

Acquired: Signed by the Chicago Cubs.

Personal: Michael William (Mike) Gordon is single and resides in Brockton, MA, in the off-season. Mike was graduated at Brockton (MA) High School. His religion is Catholic, has brown hair and blue eyes and enjoys fishing and golf.

Prior to Majors: Mike played baseball, basketball, and football in high school and was captain in all three his senior year (1972). He has always been a leader and a winner from Little League (he pitched a perfect game in the state tournament) all the way up through high school and American Legion baseball. His prep baseball team won Suburban League Championship with Mike gaining all-league and All-Boston Scholastic Team honors. He helped lead his football team to a Massachusetts state title in 1970. As a senior, he was named on the Sunkist, Kickoff, and Parade All-American Football Teams and was chosen Outstanding College Football Prospect by Scouting Systems of America. He also played in two state basketball championship tournaments. He was the Cubs' third selection in the 1972 summer free agent draft and—as he was so heavily sought by college grid coaches—Chicago is fortunate Cub scout Len Merullo was able to ink Mike to a baseball pact. In 1975, he was named catcher on the Class A Florida State League All-Star Team.

Major Leagues: This is Mike's first appearance on a major league roster. As is obvious from his statistics as he advanced up through rookie, A, and AA classifications, Gordon is consistently improving. He is a strong, durable-type player. He is quiet, but always is ready to play. He is rated as a good receiver with a strong arm. The Cubs definitely consider him major league material.

Born 8/1/52 York, PA

Acquired: In trade with Houston Astros for Julio Gonzales on Dec. 8, 1976.

Personal: Gregory E. Gross is married, has a daughter and resides in Houston, TX, in the off-season. Greg was graduated at Red Lands High (Etters, PA). His hobbies include golf and raising German Shepherds. He is a member of the Church of God and has light brown hair and blue eyes.

Prior to Majors: After prep baseball in 1970, Gross signed a professional contract with the Houston Astros. At Covington that year, he led the Appalachian League outfielders in putouts (93), assists (10), and tied in games (54), and double plays (30). He also batted .351 and led the league in hits (74) to gain Appalachian Rookie of Year Award and an all-star berth on the league and Rookie-East teams. He made the 1971 Southern League (Class AA) All-Star Team by hitting .291 for Columbus and the 1973 American Association (Class AAA) All-Star Team with a .330 for Denver. His 174 hits with the latter club was tops in the loop that season.

Major Leagues: Gross, only a 24-year-old, has a .298 major league career batting average after three full seasons with Houston. He rapped 185 hits to set a club record for the infant Astros in his first full year. He also batted .314 to earn him recognition by The Sporting News and Baseball Digest as Rookie Player of the Year in 1974. It also gained him Houston's Most Valuable Player Award by the local chapter of Baseball Writers Association of America and a runnerup position in the national voting for National League Rookie of Year. He easily gained Topps Rookie All-Star Team that season. Greg added a .294 in 1975 and batted .286 last season. In the outfield, he caught 15 attempting to take an extra base in his rookie campaign. He threw out 14 in 1975 to rank second in the league along with Jose Cardenal, now a teammate. He had 13 assists last season for an impressive 14.3 major league average.

HAMRICK, Steve P
6'1" 195 lb. R-L
Born 4/17/52 Cleveland, OH

Acquired: Signed by the Chicago Cubs.

Personal: Stephen Andrew Hamrick is single and resides in Cleveland, OH, in the off-season. Steve was graduated at Willoughby (OH) South High School. He has attended Miami University (Oxford, OH), and Ohio State University. He is a graduate of Miami-Dade North Junior College (Miami, FL), and majored in food preparation at Cornell University (Ithaca, N.Y.). His religion is Protestant. He enjoys all sports and stamp collecting. Steve has brown hair and eyes.

Prior to Majors: Hamrick played prep baseball and in college at Miami-Dade North and Cornell. In 1972 at the former, he was 6-4 with 95 strikeouts in 85 innings. In 1973 at the latter, he was 5-2 with a sizzling 0.95 earned run average while fanning 106 and walking only 30 in 66 innings. His 14.5 strikeouts per game ranked him second among NCAA University Division pitchers which helped gain him berths on the All-Eastern Intercollegiate League and NCAA All-District Two Teams. His 13.6 average, 97 strike outs in 64 innings, was third best in 1974. After signing a professional contract with Ralph DiLullo of the Cubs, he promptly made the Gulf Coast League (Rookie Class) All-Star Team when he led all pitchers with a 0.93 ERA and 87 strikeouts in 68 innings. Obviously lacking support at Key West in the Florida State League (Class A), he managed only a 5-6 record but permitted only 81 hits in 111 innings while fanning 97 and etching an excellent 1.95 ERA. When elevated to Midland (A-Texas League) Steve's ERA rose slightly (3.21), but he finished the season with a 7-2 record and still managed to keep his hits below the total number of innings pitched. Also, he had five complete games in 13 starts there to give him a total of nine for the year. His 52 K's gave him a composite of 149 for the entire season. In 1976 at Midland, his 29 starts were the most in the league and his 132 strikeouts were tops for any pitcher in the Cubs' entire minor league system.

Major Leagues: This is Steve's first emergence on a major league roster. He has an excellent chance to make it permanently one of these years as he not only has a great arm—including a "real good" fast ball—but, he is a very serious, conscientious, hard-working individual as well.

HERNANDEZ, Guillermo P
Born 11/14/55 Aguada, P.R.

Acquired: Drafted from the Philadelphia Phillies' Oklahoma City Club in the Major League Draft on Dec. 2, 1976.

Personal: Guillermo Hernandez (Villaneuva) attended Martin Hernandez High in Aguada, P.R. He is single and his hobby is fishing. He is a welder during the off-season. His hair is black and eyes brown.

Prior to Majors: He played prep baseball and was signed by the Phillies as a free agent in 1974. That season with Spartanburg he led the Western Carolinas League (Class A) in games started (26), complete games (13), innings pitched (190), and strikeouts (179). His 2.75 earned run average ranked ninth. These accomplishments earned him a berth on the WCL All-Star Team. While playing for the Phillies 1974 Florida Winter Instructional League Team, Hernandez recorded a 2.65 ERA. He had a composite won-loss record of 14-6 and a 3.11 in 1975 while pitching for Toledo and Reading of the International League (Class AAA) and Eastern League (Class AA), respectively.

HERNANDEZ, Ramon P
5'9" 180 lb. S-L
Born 8/31/40 Carolina, P.R.

Acquired: On waivers from Pittsburgh Pirates on Sept. 7, 1976.

Personal: Ramon Gonzalez Hernandez is married, has a son and a daughter, and resides in Carolina, P.R. Ramon has black hair and brown eyes and his religion is Catholic.

Prior to Majors: Hernandez was signed to his first pro contract by the Pirates in 1959 and pitched that season with Grand Forks of the Northern League (Class C). In 1962, with San Jose of the California League (Class C), Ramon had a 7-6 record, 2.93 ERA and struck out 161 batters in 138 innings, earning him a promotion to AAA ball for the 1963 season. In 1969, Ramon joined Little Rock, also of the Texas League, and won 10 games—including a 2-0 seven inning no-hit victory over El Paso on Aug. 17, 1969—while posting a 2.40 ERA, the best in the league.

Major Leagues: Hernandez was drafted by Atlanta in November of 1966 and spent the 1967 season with the Braves and appeared in 46 games, all relief performances. The Cubs drafted Ramon in 1968 and he appeared in eight games with no record. He joined the Pirates in 1971, appearing in 10 games and boasted a 0.75 ERA. His first major league win came on April 21, 1972, against the Phillies. During the 1972 campaign he was undefeated winning five games in 53 appearances, with an impressive ERA of 1.67 that was second in the National League. In 1973, Hernandez was 4-5 with a 2.40 ERA and in 1974 was 5-2 with a 2.74 ERA. In 1975,

Ramon lost his first two decisions, then came on to win the next seven ending the year with a 7-2 record, marking a personal major league high in victories. He was unscored on in 35 of the 46 games he appeared in during the '75 season. Hernandez joined the Cubs in September of 1976 and appeared in two games without yielding a run. His career record in the majors is 23-14 with a 2.85 ERA.

KELLEHER, Mick — IF
5'9" — 175 lb. — R-R
Born 7/25/47 — Seattle, WA

Acquired: In trade with St. Louis Cardinals for Vic Harris on Dec. 17, 1975.

Personal: Michael Dennis Kelleher is married and resides in Santa Barbara, CA, in the off-season. He was graduated at Shoreline High School (Seattle, WA), attended Wenatchee (WA) Junior College and majored in social science at University of Puget Sound (Tacoma, WA). Mick's religion is Methodist and his hobby is buying, collecting and refinishing antique furniture. During the winter months, Mick is a real estate agent. He has hazel eyes, and light brown hair.

Prior to Majors: Kelleher progressed through virtually every type of amateur league. He played Little, Pony, and Babe Ruth Leagues; American Legion; baseball and basketball through high school and junior college; and baseball only at senior college. In his junior prep campaign, 1964, he made the All-Seattle Metropolitan Team. In 1966 and 1967 at Wenatchee, he was named to the All-State Teams. In 1968, he captained Puget Sound and was voted its Most Valuable Player. In 1969, he helped Puget Sound to a NCAA College Division District Eight Championship and netted a berth on the All-District and All-College World Series Teams with a .444 batting average. Mick was drafted by St. Louis in the third round of the free agent draft in June, 1969. In 1971, he led all California League (Class A) shortstops in fielding (.938) and double plays (49); and was voted as C.L.'s Best Defensive Shortstop by the league managers. In 1972, he set all-time American Association (Class AAA) record for highest fielding average (.979) by a shortstop, and also led the circuit in 1974 (.966) and 1975 (.978). He is recipient of Rawlings' Silver Glove Awards (1972 & 1975) as the National Association's best fielding shortstop.

Major Leagues: Mick made his first trip to the majors in late 1972 followed by a short visit in late 1973 with the Cardinals before they sold his contract to Houston on Oct. 23, 1973. He started the 1974 campaign with the Astros, but was soon transferred to the Denver Club in the American Association. He returned to St. Louis on Dec. 13, 1974, to be assigned to its triple-A affiliate at Tulsa before the Cubs acquired him in their trade. Kelleher batted over .300 against two clubs in 1976, both former employers, as he hit .316 against Houston and .311 against St. Louis. His "on-base" percentage in a clutch situation was a fine .393 last year. Mick, always highly respected for his glove in the minors, got his first complete test in the majors last season and came out with excellent results. Playing for the first full season in the big leagues, he made only 12 errors while handling 491 chances without a flaw for a .976 fielding average in 1976. Only two players in the 24-team major leagues playing in at least 100 games at shortstop had less errors than the quick-footed Kelleher: Houston's Roger Metzger and Cleveland's Frank Duffy had 10 each. Mick's .980 fielding average in 101 games at shortstop was second in the National League to Metzger's .986.

KRUKOW, Mike P
6'4" 195 lb. R-R
Born 1/21/52 Long Beach, CA

Acquired: Signed by the Chicago Cubs.

Personal: Michael Edward Krukow is married and resides in San Gabriel, CA, in the off-season. Mike was graduated at San Gabriel High School and is majoring in physical education at California Poly State University (San Luis Obispo, CA). He has brown hair and green eyes and his hobbies include backpacking and music. Krukow's most interesting experience in baseball was "writing a song for teammate Bruce Sutter's wedding."

Prior to Majors: Krukow played Little League, Pony League, Babe Ruth League and Connie Mack ball. Mike played baseball, basketball, and football at San Gabriel (CA) High School and was named to the All-Pacific League Baseball and Basketball Teams in his senior year. In 1971, he pitched for LaCrescenta in the California Collegiate League. He played varsity baseball in 1972 with a 9-3 record and a 2.44 ERA striking out 105 batters in 115 innings. In 1973, he was 10-3 with a 1.35 ERA and he set the school strikeout record of 126 in 113 innings, tied the record for most wins in one season and tied for the team lead in home runs (4) to earn a berth on the all-conference team. His collegiate composite record was 25-7 with a 1.93 ERA and 274 strikeouts in 274 innings pitched. His most unusual fete was in amateur baseball when he pitched a no-hitter while walking 17 batters. He was signed to his first pro contract by Gene Handley of the Chicago Cubs. In 1973, Mike led the Gulf Coast League (Rookie Class) in strikeouts (80), and tied for the lead in complete games with four. In 1975, he received Texas League's Gene Lawing

Memorial Award "for contributions to baseball on and off the field." Mike played winter baseball for Caguas of the Puerto Rican League.

Prior to Majors: Lamp has participated in Little League, Pony League, Colt League and American Legion baseball programs. He played baseball and basketball in high school and was named to the All-Santa Fe League Baseball Team in his junior and senior years as well as being voted the league's Most Valuable Player both seasons. As a senior he won 13 of 15 decisions, allowing only 48 hits in 94 innings while striking out 127. Dennis was signed to his first pro contract by Gene Handley of the Chicago Cubs. In 1972, Lamp was fourth in ERA (1.93) in the Gulf Coast League (Rookie Class) and tied for second in wins with seven. In 1973, he was selected to play in the Midwest League (Class A) All-Star Game after posting a 6-4 record and 2.63 ERA with the Quincy (IL) Club. In 1975, while with Midland (TX), Dennis was 10th in the Texas League (Class AA) in ERA with a 3.33 mark, and led all pitchers in doubleplays with six. He spent the 1976 season with the Wichita Aeros (Class AAA) and tied for team lead in wins with eight.

MITTERWALD, George C
6' 2" 205 lb. R-R
Born 6/7/45 Berkley, CA

Acquired: In trade with Minnesota Twins for Randy Hundley on Dec. 6, 1973.

Personal: George Eugene Mitterwald is married and has three sons. In the off-season they reside in Orlando, FL. George was graduated at Mount Eden (Hayward, CA) High, and majored in physical education at Chabot Junior College (Hayward, CA). In the off-season he works in public relations and construction.

George served in the U.S. Army Reserve. His religion is Catholic and his hobbies are golf and fishing. George has brown hair and blue eyes.

Prior to Majors: George played baseball in Little League, Babe Ruth, and American Legion. In the latter, he admits he had his most satisfying day in amateur baseball. It was in "a Legion championship game with about 40 scouts in the stands. I went 5-for-5, threw out 3-of-3 trying to steal and drove in two runs as we won, 4-2." George played baseball and basketball in high school and junior college. In his final year at Chabot, he was named catcher on the All-Golden Gate Conference Team and (in 1975) to Chabot's "Team of the Decade." He was signed to a pro contract by the Minnesota Twins in 1965 and played in the Carolina League All-Star Game in 1966. In 1967, he led the Southern League (Class AA) catchers in assists (65) and was second in fielding (.986) as he earned a berth on that league's all-star team.

Major Leagues: Three home runs, one of them his first grand slam, and eight runs-batted-in were the foremost ingredients in George's dream game April 17, 1974, against Pittsburgh. He reached this career highlight in his fifth game for the Cubs, and it made him the first Cub to drive in eight runs since Ron Santo did it against Montreal on July 6, 1970. The previous Cub to hit three homers in one game, was Rick Monday who blasted his in Philadelphia on May 6, 1972. The season of highest achievement of Mitterwald as a major league backstop came in 1973 when he recorded a .992 fielding average to rank second among all American League catchers. He filled an emergency role as a first baseman for the Cubs on Apr. 12, 1975, and has been utilized at that position numerous times since then. Last season, George found the San Diego pitching staff the most easy for him to hit. He was .333 against the Padres.

MOORE, Donnie P
Born 2/13/54 Lubbock, TX

Acquired: Signed by the Chicago Cubs.

Personal: Donnie Ray Moore is married, has a daughter and resides in Lubbock, TX, in the off-season. He was graduated at Monterey High School (Lubbock, TX) and is majoring in Business Administration at Ranger (TX) Junior College. Donnie's hobbies include hunting, fishing, traveling and helping others. He has black hair and brown eyes.

Prior to Majors: Donnie has played baseball on many levels including Little League, Pony League, Colt League, American Legion ball and in the minors in anticipation of his ultimate goal—the majors. While at Monterey High in Lubbock, Moore twice was named to the All-Texas Class AAAA Team and once to the High School All-American Team.

Moore, Cont'd

Donnie had an 18-4 record in pitching Monterey to the state championship and was selected as Texas' most outstanding baseball player. He played baseball for Ranger Jr. College in 1973, winning 18 of 19 decisions and leading the school to the National Junior College Tournament Championship. Moore was named to the Junior College All-American first team, was chosen the tournament's Most Valuable Player and its Outstanding Pitcher. In the National Tournament he picked up four of the five Ranger victories, was credited with a save in the fifth win, had an ERA of 1.29 and set new tourney records for most wins (4), and most strikeouts (32). Donnie played semi-pro baseball with the Lubbock Hubbers. He was the Cubs' first selection in the January, 1973, free agent draft, secondary phase and was signed to his first pro contract by Bill Capps and Buck O'Neil of the Chicago Cubs. In 1973, Moore enjoyed success with Midland of the Texas League (Class AA) tying for third in the league in wins with a 14-8 record, third in ERA (2.97), second in innings pitched (185), second in strikeouts (123), tied for the lead in shutouts (3), led pitchers in assists (41) and total chances (62), and was selected to pitch in the league all-star game. In the fall of 1975, he pitched in 15 games for the Cubs' team in the Arizona Instructional League winning four, losing two, and notching a 0.90 ERA. Donnie spent the 1976 season with the Wichita Aeros in the American Association (Class AAA) and led the team in complete games (9), tying him for third in the American Association in distance performances.

Major Leagues: Moore came up to the Cubs at the end of the 1975 season, making his major league debut on September 14 against the Phillies in Chicago. He got the call for his first major league start four days later in New York going 5.1 innings with no decision.

MORALES, Jerry — OF
5'10" — 175 lb. — R-R
Born 2/18/49 — Yabucoa, P.R.

Acquired: In trade with San Diego Padres for Glenn Beckert on Nov. 12, 1973.

Personal: Julio Ruben Morales is single and resides in Caguas, P.R., in the off-season. Jerry is a graduate of Teodoro A. Mora High School (Yabucoa, P.R.) and his hobby is listening to music.

Prior to Majors: Morales played Little League; ran track and was captain of his baseball team in high school. He was a member of Puerto Rico team which participated in the 1966 Caribbean Inter-American Games. Jerry was signed to a professional baseball contract by the New York Mets. After a torrid start by batting .345 for Marion in his first season, he was named to Appalachian League All-Star Team and selected as the league's Player of the Year (one of his greatest baseball thrills) and Rookie of the Year. In 1967, his 14 triples ranked second in the Florida State League (Class A). In 1968, Morales was selected by the San Diego Padres in the expansion draft. In 1969, he led the Eastern League in triples (12); outfielders in putouts (348) and total chances (355); and played in the league all-star game. In 1971, he led Pacific Coast League (Class AAA) outfielders in fielding (.993) to become one of the three minor league outfielders to receive the Silver Glove Award.

Major Leagues: Jerry was first elevated to the majors by the Padres in 1969, but it was 1972 before he played a full season in the big leagues and 1973 before he blossomed at the plate. During the latter campaign he batted .281 and fielded .991 (fourth among outfielders in National League). These figures, plus his strong arm and speed afoot, enticed the Cubs to make the trade for Jerry. Since coming to Chicago, Morales increased his home run average from below seven per season to over 14, including a career high of 16 (second on team to Monday's 32) last year; he has never batted below .270; has averaged 80 runs-batted-in per campaign; and has averaged over nine assists per season with his rifle arm from his right field position. Batting from the cleanup slot, he led the Cubs in RBI's during 1974 and 1975. He slipped to 67 (third on team) in 1976 due partly to an injury which kept him out of 13 games and below par many other contests during the middle of the season. Jerry had two nine-game hitting streaks last year: the first nine games of the season and Sept. 19-28. On Aug. 27 and 28 against Atlanta, he treated Wrigley Field fans with five consecutive hits. At Wrigley Field last year, Morales drilled two home runs and batted in four as the Cubs beat the Mets, 5-4, in the bottom of the ninth before a record home opening day crowd of 44,818. Twice Jerry got four hits and seven times, three hits in games of 1976. Against opposing teams, he led in categories listed: vs. Hou (.321 BAVG), vs. Atl (.356 BAVG & 16 H), vs. Pitt (18 G, 11 R, 24 H, 8 RBI), vs. Mtl (10 R), vs. St. L (9 RBI (tie), 9 BB). Jerry had a .322 on-base percentage, seventh on the team. However, in a clutch situation, this intelligence stat soars to a .469 which is by far the best for the Cubs.

MURCER, Bobby — OF
Born 5/20/46 Oklahoma City, OK

Acquired: With Steve Ontiveros and Andy Muhlstock from San Francisco Giants for Bill Madlock and Rob Sperring on Feb. 11, 1977.

Personal: Bobby Ray Murcer is married, has two children, and they reside in Oklahoma City, OK. He was graduated at Southeast High in Oklahoma City and attended the University of Oklahoma. Bobby's hobbies include hunting, fishing, golf, and tennis.

Prior to Majors: Murcer was a three-sport standout in high school, excelling in baseball, football, and basketball. He was all-state in football, leading the state's Class A schools in scoring. In basketball he was an all-city selection. He was named to the all-city and all-state baseball teams in his senior year and hit .458 with only one strike out all season. He was signed to his first pro contract by the New York Yankees in 1964. That same year Bobby was named Appalachian League (Rookie Class) All-Star shortstop while playing for Johnson City (TN). In 1965 Murcer was fourth in the Carolina League (Class A) batting race with a .322 average and was named to the league all-star team. While with Toledo (Ohio) in the International League (Class AAA) he hit four consecutive home runs in doubleheader against Toronto (two in each game), on June 26. Major Leagues: Murcer first came up to the major leagues in 1965, when he joined the Yankees late in the season, in just his second year in pro ball. After a stint in the U.S. Army (1967-68), Bobby rejoined the Yankees in 1969 and was shifted to centerfield as the successor to Mickey Mantle. In 1970, he tied for the American League lead in assists by an outfielder (15). He was second in the A.L. in batting (.331) and slugging (.543) in 1971. In 1972, Murcer led the A.L. in runs scored with 102 and total bases with 314, in putouts (382) and total chances (396) to receive the Rawlings Gold Glove Award. He was fourth in the American League batting race in 1973 with a .304 average and tied for the lead in assists (14) by an outfielder. Murcer was named to The Sporting News American League All-Star Team in 1971-72-73 and has played in the Major League All-Star Game for the A.L. in 1971-72-73-74 and for the N.L. in 1975. One of Bobby's greatest baseball thrills was hitting four consecutive home runs in a doubleheader against Cleveland on June 24, 1970. His three circuits in the first game and one in the second tied the major league record most home runs, consecutive at bats and the American League record for the most home runs in a doubleheader. He hit three home runs in one game against Kansas City on July 13, 1973, and hit for the cycle against Texas on August 29, 1972. In 1976, Bobby started off the season reaching base on 22 of his first 35 plate appearances and went on to lead the Giants in slugging percentage with a .433 mark.His longest hitting streak was eight games which he did twice (7/7-7/18 and 7/27-8/5), and he had three or more hits in a game on seven different occasions. He hit two home runs in a game three times and five times drove in four or more runs in a game to record 11 game-winning hits. On August 20 he hit a home run off Montreal's Dale Murray which was the first homer off Murray in 247-1/3 innings (a modern major league record). Murcer enjoyed success against the Phillies notching a .360 batting average against them in 1976. He should find Wrigley Field's day baseball to his liking as he hit .294 under the sun last season.

The first 15,000 children under age 14 accompanied by a fully paid adult (i.e. each child-adult pair) will receive a blue, vinyl, windbreaker-type Cub jacket. The 10-gauge jackets will have a large "Cubs" logo on the front left side similar to the one worn by the Cub players on their uniforms.

ONTIVEROS, Steve IF-OF
6/0" 185 lb. S-L
Born 10/26/51 Bakersfield, CA

Acquired: With Bobby Murcer and Andy Muhlstock from San Francisco Giants for Bill Madlock and Rob Sperring on Feb. 11, 1977.

Personal: Steven Robert Ontiveros is married, has one son and they reside in Bakersfield, CA. He was graduated at Bakersfield (CA) High and his hobbies include basketball, ping pong, and football. Steve has brown hair and eyes. His greatest baseball thrill was hitting a home run his first pro game.

Prior to Majors: Ontiveros has participated in Little League, American Legion, high school and semi-pro baseball programs. Before graduating from high school in 1969 he helped lead Bakersfield to four straight South Yosemite League baseball championships and earned berths on the all-league squads in his sophomore and junior seasons. Ontiveros was signed to his first pro contract by the San Francisco Giants in 1969. In 1969, Steve led Pioneer League (Rookie Class) third basemen in fielding percentage (.898), and in 1970 led Midwest League (Class A) third baseman in fielding (.915), putouts (93), assists (219) and doubleplays (18). In 1971 while with Fresno, Ontiveros led the California League (Class A) in doubles with 33, triples with 10, second in bases on balls (102) led third baseman in chances accepted (313), and was named third baseman on the California League and National Association Class A All-Star Teams. He was chosen Topps' Player of the Month for July and, in a poll of California League managers, was voted the best batting prospect, best defensive infielder, and the infielder with the best arm. He was the Pacific Coast League batting champion in 1973 with a .357 average, the highest season average in the PCL since 1956, and he led the league in doubles (32) and triples (16). On July 9, 1973, he hit two home runs, two triples and a single in five at bats, driving in seven runs in a 15-4 win. Among the honors he received that season were: being named to the PCL and National Association Class AAA All-Star Teams as an outfielder, voted league's Player of the Month for July, named Topps' Player of the Year, and was chosen Minor League Player of the Year by The Sporting News.

Major Leagues: Steve first came to the majors in 1973 when he joined the Giants late in the season, and he hasn't been off a major league roster since. Ontiveros enjoyed his best season in the majors in 1975 when he hit .289 in 108 games. On August 24, 1975, Steve was playing right field and made a spectacular catch on John Milner's looping line drive to save Ed Halicki's no-hitter. On September 3, 1975, he enjoyed a career high four-hit game against Houston in the Astrodome. Ontiveros has lifetime batting averages of .340 against the Mets, .326 against the Phillies and .300 against the Cincinnati Reds. He played winter ball for Mazatlan this past year and played in the Mexican World Series.

May 29 (Sun) Men's Sport Hat Day

The first 15,000 boys and men accompanied by a fully paid adult female (i.e. each male-female pair) will receive a very popular and versatile Cub hat. It is blue with a heavily stitched brim that completely encircles the crown permitting one to wear it flipped up, down or both. It easily folds to fit the pocket.

PUTMAN, Ed C-1B
6'1" 190 lb. R-R
Born 9/25/53 Los Angeles, CA

Acquired: Signed by the Chicago Cubs.
Personal: Eddy William (Ed) Putman is married and resides in Covina, CA, in the off-season. He is a graduate of Northview High (Covina) and majored in Physical Education at the University of Southern California. Ed has brown eyes and hair and enjoys fishing, tennis, and bicycle riding.
Prior to Majors: Putman has probably played on more amateur championship teams than any other player in the Cubs' organization. He helped his Pony League to a runnerup slot in the national tournament, and two years later he paced his Colt League teammates to a national title. The following year he led The West Covina Post No. 790 to an American Legion National Championship with a .545 batting average and 15 runs-batted-in during the seven-game series. While attending Northview High, as an All-Montview League catcher, he was instrumental in his team winning the California Interscholastic Federation Class AA title. He was drafted by Texas in 1971, but did not sign. During his three years at USC, Ed was named All-Pacific Eight Conference catcher and was named Honorable Mention on The Sporting News' College All-America Team. He helped the Trojans win three consecutive conference, district, and College World Series Championships (1972-5). He was the Cubs' first selection in the secondary phase of the January free agent draft and was signed by Gene Handley. Putman's first season as a professional was not overly impressive at first glance of his statistics. A check of his hits and bases on balls as compared to his trips to the plate revealed he was on base by those two methods almost 35% of the time at Key West in the Florida State League (Class A). In the 1975 Arizona Instruction League, Putman batted .365 and continued his improvement as a catcher and first baseman in 1976 at Midland in the Texas League (Class AA) and Wichita of the American Association (Class AAA).
Major Leagues: Ed was impressive before the major league coaching staff during spring training in 1976. Then, his success at Midland and Wichita merited him a trip to Chicago in September. In his first time at bat, Sept. 7 at Wrigley Field, Putman had a pinchhit single to collect one of the eight hits off New York's Jon Matlack. Ed played errorless ball at first base and rapped another single in his next game. He got another one-base safety in his third appearance before he finally failed in a pinchhit role in his last time at bat for a fine .429 major league debut.

RENKO, Steve P
6'6" 226 lb. R-R
Born 12/10/44 Kans. City, MO

Acquired: With Larry Büttner from Montreal Expos for Andy Thornton on May 17, 1976.
Personal: Steven Renko Jr. is married, has two sons, and resides in Overland Park, KS, in the off-season. He was graduated at Wyandotte High School (Kansas City, MO), and attended the University of Kansas majoring in business. Steve's hobby is golf. He has blue eyes and brown hair.
Prior to Majors: After becoming a three-sport standout in high school,

Steve went on to the University of Kansas where he was named "Mr. Versatility" because of his athletic abilities in baseball, basketball, and football. Renko decided on professional baseball as a career and signed his first contract with the New York Mets. Steve started as a first baseman, and batted .290 with seven homers and 37 RBI's in 50 rookie league games in 1965. He moved up to Class A in 1966 and had 10 home runs and 42 RBI's in 69 games, but with a .232 batting average he was already thinking of pitching. In the next level that year at Williamsport in the Eastern League as his average was falling to .169, he pitched two innings in relief and held the opposition scoreless while fanning two batters. As he had hit a total of 17 homers in 1966, the Met organization didn't give up on him entirely as a hitter, but sent him back to Class A ball in 1967 as a pitcher-first baseman for Winter Haven. He batted only .218 (eight homers), but posted a 8-1 record with a 1.61 ERA which prompted him to concentrate more on his mound work. He played 18 games at first in 1969 at Tidewater in the International League (Class AAA) and 32 games in 1972 for Montreal, but otherwise his hitting has been primarily on days he has been pitching or as an occasional pinchhitter. Steve was traded to the Montreal Expos on June 15, 1969, along with pitchers Jay Carden and Dave Colon and infielder Kevin Collins for the contract of first baseman Donn Clendenon.

Major Leagues: Steve was the winningest pitcher in Montreal's eight-year history with 68 victories. He also holds their all-time club lead in games started and innings pitched. He won 15 games in 1971, working 276 innings, but his best season was in 1973 when he posted a 15-11 record with an excellent 2.81 ERA. Steve notched his first Cub shutout by combining with Joe Coleman on July 5, 1976, to blank the San Diego Padres. His best game occurred on Sept. 29 when he held the Pirates scoreless for nine innings, allowing only five hits, and beat them 1-0. Renko owned a 3-0 mark, with a 1.23 ERA, vs. St. Louis as they proved to be his most beatable foe. Excellent ERA's of 1.71 and 0.00 made Steve a tough match for Montreal and San Diego.

REUSCHEL, Paul — P
6'4" — 210 lb. — R-R
Born 1/12/47 — Quincy, IL

Acquired: Signed by the Chicago Cubs.

Personal: Paul Richard Reuschel is married, has one son, and resides in Camp Point, IL. He was graduated at Central High School (Camp Point, IL) and majored in physical education at Western (Macomb) Illinois University. Paul is of the Lutheran faith; his hobbies include all sports, and reading. Paul, who is a farmer in the off-season, has brown hair and eyes. His younger brother, Rick, also pitches for the Chicago Cubs.

Prior to Majors: Paul's baseball career began in Golden, IL, where he participated in Little League and Pony League, then played American Legion ball in Keokuk, IA. Upon graduation from Central High in Camp Point, IL, in 1965, where he lettered in baseball, basketball, and track. Paul went on to Western Illinois University and was named to the All-Illinois Intercollegiate Athletic Conference Teams in varsity baseball and basketball. Paul pitched for the Galesburg Pioneers in the Central Illinois Collegiate League in 1966-67. In 1968, his junior year, Paul was selected for the NCAA College Division All-District Four Baseball Team. Reuschel was signed to his first contract by Elvin Tappe of the Chicago Cubs. He played in the minors from 1968-75 with highlights coming in the 1969 season with Quincy of the Midwest League (Class A) when he had a 11-3 record with a 2.83 ERA.

Major Leagues: In 1975, after earning a 6-4 record at Wichita of the American Association (Class AAA), Paul was called up to the Cubs. The high point of the 1975 season for Paul came on August 21, against the Dodgers, when he held them scoreless for the final 2.2 innings to save the shutout for his younger brother, Rick. In 1976, Paul's first full year with the Cubs, he appeared in 50 games, getting the nod for his first two major league starts, and earned a 4-2 record. His best performances came against Pittsburgh, St. Louis, Houston and San Francisco against whom he recorded ERA's of 0.90, 1.13, 1.29, and 1.80, respectively.

REUSCHEL, Rick P
6'3" 230 lb. R-R
Born 5/16/49 Quincy, IL

Acquired: Signed by the Chicago Cubs.

Personal: Rick Eugene Reuschel is married, has one son and resides in nearby Arlington Heights, IL. He was graduated at Central High School in Camp Point, IL and is majoring in Mathematics at Western (Macomb) Illinois University. Rick's religion is Lutheran and his hobbies include hunting and basketball. Rick has brown hair and eyes.

Prior to Majors: Rick played in Little League and Pony League ball in Golden, IL, and American Legion ball in Keokuk, IA. He pitched on the varsity baseball team at Western Illinois University. In 1968, as a member of the Galesburg Pioneers of the Central Illinois Collegiate League, Rick earned a 4-4 record with a 3.42 ERA. In 1969, he helped guide Western Illinois to the Illinois Intercollegiate Athletic Conference Championship with a superb 10-0 record and a 1.29 ERA. That same year Reuschel was named to the all-conference and all-district teams. Rick was signed to his first pro contract by Elvin Tappe of the Chicago Cubs. In 1970, Reuschel led the Northern League in complete games with seven. Rick owned a 2.31 ERA in 1971 with the San Antonio club in the Texas League (Class AA). When he was promoted to the big club from Wichita in June, 1972, Reuschel was leading the American Association (Class AAA) in ERA (1.33), wins (9), complete games (8), and shutouts (3).

Major Leagues: In his first major league game, June 19, 1972, Rick struck out the only man he faced—Bobby Bonds of San Francisco. The next day he recorded his first big league win in six innings of relief, and hit a double in his first time at bat for his first RBI. In 1973, he was 12th in ERA (3.00) in the National League and in 1974 led National League pitchers in total chances (84). In 1975, Rick earned a 3.73 ERA, starting all but one of his 38 games. A rare baseball phenomena took place on August 21 vs. the Dodgers, when Rick and his older brother, Paul, combined to blank the Dodgers for nine innings, giving Rick the win and Paul the save. Rick started 37 of his 38 games in 1976, earning one save in his only relief appearance. He completed nine games and finished the year with a 3.46 ERA. Rick was involved in three shutouts, one each vs. San Diego and Philadelphia, and, in the third shutout, vs. San Francisco, May 2, pitched 10 no-run innings, allowing only three hits. Mike Garman came aboard to pitch the 11th and wrapped up the win for Rick. Reuschel led the Club in most innings pitched (260) and strikeouts (146). Rick's lowest hit game was on June 4 vs. Houston, when he pitched eight innings, allowing only one unearned run on two hits, but he lost the heartbreaker 1-0. Reuschel came on strong at the season's end, completing five of his last six games.

ROSELLO, Dave — IF
Born 6/26/50 — Mayaguez, P.R.

Acquired: Signed by the Chicago Cubs.

Personal: David Rosello is married and resides in Mayaguez, P.R. in the off-season. He was graduated at Eugenio Maria de Hostos School in Mayaguez. Dave's religion is Catholic and he has black hair and brown eyes.

Prior to Majors: Rosello played baseball, basketball, softball, track and field in high school and also competed in American Legion ball. He was signed to his first professional contract by Chicago's Jose Santiago. In 1972, he led American Association (Class AAA) shortstops in assists (436) and total chances (686); tied for lead in putouts (215) and double plays (88); and was named to the A.A. All-Star Team and played in the mid-season classic. In 1973, he repeated as an all-star after batting .313 for the Wichita Aeros. In 1975, he led American Association shortstops in assists (435), total chances (660), and was again selected for—and participated in—the annual all-star game. For the past two years, Dave has played for the Ponce Lions of the Puerto Rican Winter League.

Major Leagues: Rosello made the climb to the majors in 1972 and has been up every year since, starting the 1974 and 1976 campaigns in Chicago. Last year was his first full season with the Cubs. He made only 12 miscues afield while handling 346 without error for a .966 fielding average in 91 games. He batted .294 against the World Champion Cincinnati Reds, .310 against the tough New York pitching staff, and .321 (2nd high on team) against Los Angeles. Against San Diego, Davie collected nine bases-on-balls in only 10 games to lead the team. His keen eye at the plate netted him 41 walks, 15 coming in a span of 17 consecutive games, to help produce an "on-base" or "reach" percentage of .357. Only one other Cub player, National League batting champion Bill Madlock, had a higher percentage.

SCHULTZ, Buddy P
6' 175 lb. R-L
Born 9/19/50 Cleveland, OH

Acquired: Signed by the Chicago Cubs.

Personal: Charles Budd Schultz is married, has a son and a daughter and resides in Scottsdale, AZ in the off-season. Buddy was graduated at Shaw High School in East Cleveland, OH, and majored in industrial education at Miami University (Oxford, OH). He is of the Catholic faith and enjoys raising dogs, especially Great Danes. In the off-season he is a representative for Ture Enterprises. Buddy has green eyes and light brown hair.

Prior to Majors: As a youngster, Buddy Schultz played Little League baseball and in high school he participated in baseball, basketball and football. In his senior year, he was Shaw's captain and helped lead the baseball team to the Ohio State Championship. He pitched a doubleheader shutout in the semi-final and final games of the state tournament, giving up a total of five hits, striking out 13 batters in the first game and 14 in the second. Buddy was named to the All-Lake Erie Conference Team that season. Schultz entered Miami University in Oxford, Ohio, and was a member of the varsity baseball team. In 1970, he won five and lost three, struck out 68 and walked 27 in 59 innings, setting the school record for lowest ERA (1.06) in a season. In 1971, Buddy earned a 7-3 record with a 2.33 ERA, and set the Miami record for most strikeouts in one season with 112 in 77 innings. He ranked seventh in the country among NCAA University Division pitchers with an average of 13.1 strikeouts per nine-inning game. Also among his achievements that year, was the NCAA record of 26 strikeouts in one game against Wright State College. Schultz captained the Miami team in 1972, his senior year, recording a 5-1 season. Buddy was selected for the All-Mid-American Conference Team three straight years, 1970-71-72. He was signed to his first contract by Ben Zientara of the Chicago Cubs. Buddy joined the Cubs farm system in 1972 and was brought up to the big leagues for the first time in latter part of the 1975 campaign. His best season in the minors was 1974, when he compiled a 3-0 record for Wichita of the American Association (Class AAA) with a 1.80 ERA.

Major Leagues: When promoted to the Cubs, he became a welcome addition to the bullpen. He won two games without a loss, and fanned four, pitching six innings in six appearances. Schultz began the 1976 campaign with the big team, but was hampered by a leg injury sustained when he took a hard shot off the bat of Pittsburgh's Al Oliver on June 22. He was optioned to Wichita on July 4, but was recalled by Chicago in September. Buddy pitched a total of 24 innings for the Cubs, and recorded a 0.00 ERA vs. Montreal, New York, Cincinnati, Houston, Los Angeles, and San Diego. Schultz started the 1976 season (4/9 thru 4/28) with a string of nine games and eight innings pitched without yielding an earned run.

SEMBER, Mike — IF
6' — 185 lb. — R-R
Born 2/24/53 — Hammond, IN

Acquired: Signed by the Chicago Cubs.

Personal: Michael David (Mike) Sember is single and resides in Lansing, IL in the off-season. Mike was graduated at Bishop Noll Institute (Hammond, IN) and majored in broadcasting at University of Tulsa (OK). His religion is Catholic; has brown hair and eyes; and enjoys tennis, and disco music. Mike is in banking management in the off-season.

Prior to Majors: Mike played baseball, basketball, and football at Bishop Noll, but only played baseball in his senior year. At Tulsa, he quarterbacked the freshman team, but then switched to baseball. He was instrumental in Tulsa winning four consecutive Missouri Valley Conference (MVC) Championships, 1971-74; a NCAA District Five title and a tie for second place in the College World Series in 1971. Sember's play gained him a shortstop berth on the All-MVC Teams in 1972, 73, and 74; All-District Five in 1973 and 74; and Academic All-American Team in 1974. He batted .349 with eight homers and 29 RBI's in 43 games in 1972; hit .352 with 16 RBI's, and 22 SB's in 51 G's in 1974. His greatest baseball thrill was hitting two home runs to beat Memphis State, 9-8, in the 1973 MVC Championship Game. He played semi-pro baseball at Liberal, KS, and Midlothian, IL. Mike was drafted in the second round of the June 1974 free agent draft by the Cubs and was signed by scout John Hennessy. In 1975 at Midland, he led all Texas League (Class AA) shortstops in fielding (.937), putouts (218), and total chances (623). During the 1976 season, Mike played outfield at Midland and shortstop at Wichita in the American Association (AAA).

SUTTER, Bruce — P
6'2" — 190 lb. — R-R
Born 1/8/53 — Lancaster, PA

Acquired: Signed by the Chicago Cubs.

Personal: Howard Bruce Sutter is married, has one son, and resides in Lancaster, PA, in the off-season. Bruce was graduated at Donegal High School (Mt. Joy, PA). His religion is Methodist and his hobbies include hunting and fishing. Bruce has blue eyes and brown hair.

Prior to Majors: Bruce excelled in baseball, basketball, and football at Donegal High School and received honors in each sport. He helped lead the baseball team to the Lancaster County championship and was chosen all-county pitcher. He helped take the basketball team to the Pennsylvania Interscholastic Athletic Association District Three title. In football he was chosen the district's outstanding quarterback. He captained the basketball and football teams in his senior year and received the school's Outstanding Athlete award. Sutter played American Legion ball, leading Mount Joy's team to the District Ten championship and was voted the district's best pitcher. He played semi-pro ball for Hippey's Raiders in the Lebanon Valley League. Sutter was signed to his first pro contract by Ralph DiLullo of the Chicago Cubs. In the fall of 1974, Bruce pitched for the Cubs team in the Arizona Instructional League posting a 3-0 record with a 0.90 ERA and led the league with seven saves. While in the minors he had a 1.38 ERA in 1974, 2.15 in 1975 and 2.33 in 1976.

Major Leagues: Bruce was called up to the Cubs on May 8, 1976, and made his major league debut the next day against the Cincinnati Reds. He was credited with his first major league save on May 23 against the Pirates in Pittsburgh and picked up his first win on July 9 against the Giants. Sutter established himself as the ace righthander in the bull pen and led all Cub relievers in wins with six, saves with 10, and an ERA of 2.71 earning him the Cub nomination for the Rolaid's Relief Man Award. Bruce proved himself to be the top control artist on the staff posting the best strikeout-walk ratio (nearly 3 to 1) and the most strikeouts per inning pitched (73 K's in 83 IP). During the season he put together strings of nine, 10 (twice), and 13 innings without yielding an earned run. Bruce pitched five innings against the San Diego Padres without allowing a run and picked up one save. Against Pittsburgh, Sutter appeared in eight games and pitched 12-1/3 shutout innings with one save. His best success came against the Philadelphia Phillies as he pitched 11 scoreless innings and notched a 3-0 record with one save in six games. The local chapter of the BBWAA named Bruce the 1976 Rooky of the Year.

SWISHER, Steve C
6'2" 205 lb. R-R
Born 8/9/51 Parkersburg, WV

Acquired: With Steve Stone, Ken Frailing and Jim Kremmel from Chicago White Sox for Ron Santo on Dec. 11, 1973.

Personal: Steven Eugene Swisher is single and resides in Chicago. "Swish" was graduated at Parkersburg (W. Va.) South High and majored in education and modern health at Ohio University (Athens). His religion is Protestant, and his hobbies are swimming and snowmobiling. Steve has blonde hair and hazel eyes.

Prior to Majors: Swisher was the number one draft choice of the Chicago White Sox in June of 1973 after establishing impressive statistics at Ohio University. During three seasons of varsity competition with the Bobcats, Steve averaged .346 at the plate and fielded .992 while gaining three All Mid-American Conference Team selections. He had a .462 career batting average at Parkersburg High and led his American Legion team to a state championship. While playing for the Alaska Goldpanners, he hit a home run to give his team a 3-2 win in the finals of the National Baseball Congress Tournament. After he was signed to a professional contract, he started at Class AA level (54 games) in the Southern League and was quickly elevated to Class AAA level (65 games) in the American Association to give him a total professional experience of only 119 contests in the minor leagues.

Major Leagues: The highlight of Steve's major league career came in July of 1976 when he was named to the National League All-Star Team by Manager Sparky Anderson. Gabby Hartnett and Randy Hundley are the only two other Cub catchers to have been thusly honored. "Swish" had earned the appointment after a very successful start. By May 21, through the first 34 Cub games, he was hitting .322. In fact, he maintained an average above .300 until May 29, and it was June 24—67th game of the season—before the young backstop dropped under .285. In his first 40 games, Steve hit safely in 30 of them. One hot streak (May 10-16), Steve collected 11 hits (5 in succession) in 18 at bats for a .611 batting mark to give him Player of the Week honors. Of all the players achieving this recognition in 1976, none had a higher weekly average than Swisher's. Steve batted .394 against World Champion Cincinnati's pitching and two safeties were triples hit in the same game which tied N.L. high for 1976. He also batted .450 against Atlanta hurling. Steve was named to Baseball Digest's Major League Rookie All-Star Team in 1974.

TABB, Jerry — IF
Born 3/17/52 — Altus, OK

Acquired: Signed by the Chicago Cubs.

Personal: Jerry Lynn Tabb is married and resides in Altus, OK, in the off-season. He is a graduate of Altus (OK) High School and majored in Petroleum Engineering at the University of Tulsa (OK). Jerry's religion is Methodist; has blonde hair and hazel eyes; and his hobbies include golf, hunting, rock collecting, and electronics.

Prior to Majors: Tabb probably has more impressive amateur credentials as anyone in the Cubs' organization. After Little League in Santa Ana, CA; and American Legion in Altus; he played football and baseball at Altus High, gaining All-Oklahoma status as a first baseman. Academically, Tabby ranked fifth in a class of 240. He led University of Tulsa to three Missouri Valley Conference Championships in 1971-3; and a NCAA District Five title and a tie for second in the College World Series (CWS) in 1971. He made the All-CWS Team, and admits it was his greatest college thrill when they named him the CWS Most Valuable Player as a freshman. He had batted .500 and tied the CWS record of 10 runs-batted-in. Tabb was named on the All-MVC and All-NCAA District Teams each of his three seasons in which he averaged over six homers and batted .413, .375, and .401, respectively. As a frosh first sacker, he won the NCAA District Five batting championship netting him Adirondack's "Big Stick" Award. His senior year he was named to NCAA College, The Sporting News, and Academic All-American First Teams. He set single season Tulsa records in runs (54), bases on balls (49), and doubles (13, tie). He amassed the following Tulsa three-year career records: batting (.401), runs (127), hits (191), doubles (36), triples (12), runs-batted-in (144), and bases on balls (89). Jerry played in the Pan-American Games in 1971 and toured Japan with a U.S. All-Star Team in '72. In 1972, he also made the All-Colorado Team as a semi-pro with the Boulder Collegians state champs. He was Chicago's first round choice in the June 1973 free agent draft and was inked to a Cub pact by Dick Le May. On July 9 that year for Midland in the Texas League (Class AA), Tabb hit for the cycle in a game (two homers, a single, double, and triple), and his second homer gave Midland a 10-9 win in the 11th inning. In 1974, he tied for Texas League lead in home runs (29) and was third in RBI's (105). He was out a month in 1975 due to a fractured wrist. His fine season at Wichita in the American Association (Class AAA) in 1976 rewarded him with a promotion to the big leagues.

Major Leagues: Jerry, like a lot of great former stars making their debut, struck out in his first major league at bat, but only fanned once more in his 11 games. He not only finished his brief visit with a respectable .292, but recorded a .370 on-base percentage. He hit best against the pitching staffs of Pittsburgh (.300), Philadelphia (.400), and Montreal (.500). He played errorless ball, handling 54 total chances and making several outstanding defensive plays at first base.

Born 12/7/55 Grove City, PA

Acquired: Signed by the Chicago Cubs.
Personal: Vernon Scot Thompson is married and resides in Renfrew, PA in the off-season. He was graduated at Knock High School in Saxonburg, PA. His religion is Catholic; he has brown hair and eyes; and enjoys golf, tennis, basketball, swimming, bowling and cards. Scot is a carpenter during the winter months. Scot's father, William K. Thompson, 1B-OF, played pro ball for 10 years (1953-62), was in A's and Braves farm systems, playing principally in Texas League, Southern Association and South Atlantic League.
Prior to Majors: Thompson's high school did not field a baseball team; therefore, he concentrated in basketball, football, and track in athletics. He made all-section in basketball and was voted the school's Most Valuable Player in his last two seasons. Scot once caught three touchdown passes in one game in football. He played his baseball in Little League; Senior LL; American Legion at Saxonburg, PA; and in the Mid-County League at Penn Township, PA. He was drafted in the first round of the June 1974 free agent draft by the Cubs and signed by Frank DeMoss. In 1974, he was named to the Gulf Coast League (Rookie Class) All-Star Team. In 1975, he led Florida State League (Class A) outfielders with six double plays. Following that season he finished second (.333) in the Arizona Winter Instructional League batting race and was tied for the lead in triples. In 1976, he played most of his games at first base at Midland in the Texas League (Class AA), but he is also an outfielder. In 116 games at both positions, he made only 12 errors.
Major Leagues: This is Scot's first inscription on a major league roster. The 21-year-old professional has been steadily improving as he climbed rapidly through three minor league classifications to his fine .285 season last year to earn the elevation.

TRILLO, Manny IF
6'1" 160 lb. R-R
Born 12/25/50 Caritito, Venz.

Acquired: With Darold Knowles and Bob Locker from Oakland A's for Billy Williams on Oct. 23, 1974.

Personal: Jesus Manuel Trillo is married, has three daughters and one son, and resides in Caracus, Venezuela in the off-season. Manny is a graduate of Tecnica Industrial and attended Libertador Bolivar (both located in Maturin, Monagas, Venz.). In the off-season, Manny plays baseball for Caracus in the Venezuelan League, and also enjoys going to movies and playing golf. His religion is Catholic and has black hair and brown eyes.

Prior to Majors: Trillo played Little League baseball, and competed in basketball and volleyball as well as baseball in high school. He was originally signed to a pro pact by the Phillies as a catcher, but also played in the infield in his first year. He was selected by Oakland at the major league draft session of the 1969 Winter Baseball Meetings after a fine sophomore season in pro baseball. When he worked up to the Iowa Club of the American Association (Class AAA), he had never hit over .280 but was consistently around the .270 mark. At Iowa, he batted .301 (4th in loop) with 27 doubles, six triples, and nine home runs to gain a berth on the American Association All-Star Team. When the franchise moved to Tucson, Manny found the Pacific Coast League (Class AAA) about the same as he almost matched his figures the year before (.312 BAVG, 25 2B's, 7 3B's, 8 HR's). He also had 76 runs, 78 RBI's, and 162 hits (3rd in league); led second basemen in fielding (.973), putouts (304), assists (373), and double plays (113); gaining a spot on the PCL All-Star Team and a boost to the major leagues.

Major Leagues: Manny had only 39 games in the majors before the Cubs acquired him in trade. They immediately put a horsecollar on the young aspirant and handed him second base, because he played 154 games in his first season in Cub pinstripes to share the team high with Jose Cardenal. Last season, the durable Trillo stood alone at the top with 158, only missing four games the entire year. With his 52 walks, he had a .301 on-base percentage. His 17 stolen bases last season was not only the second best on the club (Cardenal had 23) but was by far the most in Trillo's life as a professional ball player. For example, he only had one in 1975 and his most was seven in 1973 at Tucson. Manny paced the team with a .308 against Pittsburgh pitching in 1976. His three doubles and seven RBI's were high against Houston and his .350 was second only to Monday's .372 against San Diego. Defensively, Trillo's play at second base improved considerably last year as he continues his quest of becoming the best keystone man in the majors. He's already "one of the top four at his position in the major leagues," Cincinnati's Joe Morgan once said. "Manny's arm may well be the strongest of any second baseman there is. He's got what you'd call style and grace." Manny's relays from the outfield have cut down many runners at third base and home plate. After leading the National League second sackers with 509 assists in 1975 to help him gain Chicago Rookie of the Year Award, Trillo did even better in 1976 by compiling 527 and 350 putouts while making only 17 errors for a .981 fielding percentage. The errors are 12 lower than his 1975 total (29) and his FAVG is .014 points higher than his .967 computation of 1975. Last season, Manny had a span of 42 consecutive errorless games (July 29 thru Sept. 10) in which he flawlessly handled 69 putouts and 143 assists. During that period, the Cubs posted a 23-19 won-loss record. Last winter Manny and "keystone mate" Mick Kelleher played for Caracus in the Venezuelan League.

TURNER, Darrell — P
6'3" — 190 lb. — R-R
Born 3/30/55 — Win. Gard., FL

Acquired: Signed by the Chicago Cubs.

Personal: Darrell Wayne Turner is single and resides in Ocoee, FL, in the off-season. He was graduated at Ocoee High School. Darrell has brown hair and hazel eyes and his religion is Baptist. His hobbies include music and karate.

Prior to Majors: Darrell participated in Little League and Pony League ball, before attending Ocoee High School where he joined the baseball, basketball and football teams. In his senior year, 1973, he earned a 12-2 record with a 0.50 ERA in helping pitch Ocoee to the Florida State Class AA championship. Darrell was named to all-state teams in both baseball and football that year. He was signed to his first contract by Q. V. Lowe, scout for the Cubs. The Cubs picked Darrell as their second choice in the June 1973 free agent draft, regular phase. As a member of the Midland Cubs of the Texas League (Class AA) in 1976, Darrell started 14 games, completing six of them. Turner was very effective in the Arizona Instructional League last winter recording a 4-1 won-loss mark and a 3.11 ERA.

WALLIS, Joe — OF
5'10" — 195 lb. — S-R
Born 1/9/52 — E. St. Louis, IL

Acquired: Signed by the Chicago Cubs.

Personal: Harold Joseph Wallis is single and resides in Chicago, IL. Joe was graduated at McCluer High (Florissant, MO) and attended Southern (Carbondale) Illinois University, majoring in Business. "Tarzan" enjoys all sports, music, and "cliff diving of any kind." His religion is Protestant and has blue eyes and blonde hair.

Prior to Majors: Wallis played Khoury League and American Legion baseball. He played football and was an All-Missourian in baseball as a prepster. He was drafted by Houston, but did not sign. At SIU, he was named to the College All-American Team. Joe had tied for lead in the NCAA University Division in stolen bases and was third with a .446 batting average and sixth with a .715 slugging percentage as a sophomore. In district competition, his .466 was the second best in SIU history earning him Adirondack's "Big Stick" Award and gaining him a cover photograph on the 1973 Official Collegiate Baseball Guide. He "dropped" to a

.364 and paced his team in many offensive categories as a junior. In 1973, he was drafted by the Cubs and signed by Elvin Tappe. Wallis led the Florida State League (Class A) with 16 home runs and was second in assists (15) by outfielders in 1974. Later that year, he hit .319 to lead Arizona Winter Instructional League. In 1975, he hit safely in his last 18 games with Wichita in the American Association (Class AAA).

Major Leagues: On September 24, 1975, shortly after his elevation to the majors, Joe hit a ninth inning single with two out and a 0-2 count to spoil New York's Tom Seaver's bid for his first no-hitter. Cubs eventually won the fracas, 1-0, in the 11th. In 1976, Wallis earned a permanent spot on the Cubs' 25-man roster with his outstanding defensive play in centerfield. When club manager Jim Marshall decided to move veteran Rick Monday from center to first base, Wallis responded well with the bat also. The 25-year-old switchhitter batted .254 overall, but a more impressive .283 against righthanded pitchers against whom he was used more often. During a period when Monday was injured and Wallis played more regular, Joe hit safely in 17 of 18 games from July 20-August 4. He played in all 36 games against Philadelphia and Montreal, leading the team in runs (10) and doubles (6) while batting .295 against the Phillies. His highest averages against opposing clubs were St. Louis (.333) and Atlanta (.306).

ROLAIDS RELIEF MAN AWARDS

In an effort to further reward one of baseball's most significant set of specialists, the Warner-Lambert Company is sponsoring the Rolaids Relief Man Awards. The awards are in the form of sterling silver trophies of fireman's caps. The premier relievers in the American and National Leagues and on each of the 26 major league clubs will be selected on the basis of a newly-established point system which awards two points for each win, similar number for each save and will take one point away for each loss. In case of ties, the hurler with the lowest ERA will be declared the winner. Bruce Sutter was the Cubs' Rolaids Relief Man in 1976 with six wins, 10 saves and three losses for a total of 29 points.

GENERAL RULES INFORMATION

Player Limits: Clubs must cut active roster to a maximum of 25 players on opening day. . . . From Sept. 1 to opening day, clubs may carry up to 40 players.

Trades within the National League: From midnight the last day of the season to midnight June 15, player contracts may be traded or sold without getting waivers. . . . From June 15 to the end of the season, League waivers are necessary.

Waivers: Player contracts may be available for purchase by other clubs in reverse order of the League standings at the time waivers expire, if more than 30 days after opening day. Otherwise, in reverse order of the standing at the close of the previous season.

Inter-League Trades: From midnight on the fifth day after the completion of the World Series to midnight of the day preceding the last day of the Winter Meetings and from February 15 to midnight, March 15, player contracts may be traded or sold between clubs of the National and American League without waivers. . . . From midnight, Dec. 10, to midnight, June 15, and from the last day of the season through the fourth day after the completion of the World Series, waivers are necessary in the assignor's league. . . . From midnight, June 15, to the last day of the season, waivers from all major league clubs are necessary.

Regulation Game: A regulation game consists of nine innings unless extended because of a tie score or shortened because (1) the home team needs none of its half of the ninth or only part of it; or (2) because the umpire-in-chief calls the game after five completed innings. A regulation game may be less than five innings if the home team is ahead after the first of the fifth, or takes the lead or ties the score while at bat in the fifth.

Tie Game: A regulation game that is called by the umpire-in-chief when both teams have the same number of runs is a tie game. Individual player performances are official and are entered in the records, but the game does not count in the League standings and may be re-scheduled at a later date.

Suspended Game: A game becomes a suspended game if it is terminated for any of the following reasons: (1) a curfew imposed by law; (2) a time limit permissible under league rules; (3) light failure or malfunction of a mechanical field device under control of the home club (including automatic tarpaulin or water removal equipment; or (4) Darkness because of any law, the lights may not be turned on. No game called because of a curfew or a time limit shall be a suspended game unless it has progressed far enough to have been a regulation game (see above). A game called under either provision (3) or (4) shall be a suspended game at any time after it starts. Note: weather and similar conditions shall take precedence in determining whether a called game shall be a suspended game. A game can only be considered a suspended game if stopped for any of the four reasons specified. Any legal game called due to weather with the score tied is a "tie game" and must be replayed in its entirety.

NEW "SAVE" RULE

Effective in 1975 the new "save" rule reads: "A pitcher shall be credited with a save when he meets all three of the following conditions:

(1) He is the finishing pitcher in a game won by his club, and
(2) He is not the winning pitcher, and
(3) He qualifies under one of the following conditions:
  (a) He enters the game with a lead of no more than three runs and pitches for at least one inning, or
  (b) He enters the game with the potential tying run either on base, at bat, or on deck (that is, the potential tying run is either already on base or is one of the first two batsmen he faces), or
  (c) He pitches effectively for at least three innings."

June 11 (Sat) Helmet Day

The first 15,000 children under age 14 accompanied by a fully paid adult (i.e. each child-adult pair) will be given a plastic helmet which is an adjustable souvenir replica of the Cubs' batting helmet.

Power King—Hack Wilson

Cub great Hack Wilson, drove in 190 runs in 1930, a mark which still stands as a major league record today. The 56 home runs he hit that season are still a National League record.

DAHLEN'S AMAZING STREAK

Bill Dahlen recorded a .274 batting average after 21 years in the National League as a shortstop, but in 1894 he hit .362 thanks to an amazing 42-game hitting streak (June 20 thru Aug. 6). After he was held hitless Aug. 7, the Cub infielder then put together a 28-game span (Aug. 8 thru Sept. 9) for a total of 70 games in which he hit safely out of 71 consecutively played games. The 42-game streak is tops in the National League and is second only to Joe Dimaggio's 56 in the American League. No player has equalled Dahlen's 70-out-of-71.

FREE AGENT DRAFT RULE

Major league and National Association clubs participate in two meetings a year for the purpose of drafting free agent player talent. Selection of a free agent entitles the club to the exclusive right of negotiation with the player for a specified period (from the date of selection until 15 days prior to the next draft meeting). Draft meetings are held in June and January.

There are two categories to each draft meeting:

(1) Regular Phase—Selection of free agents is in inverse order of major league standings. Each organization may select only one player for each of its major league, "AAA" and "AA" rosters but is not limited to the number of picks for "A" level. Minor league clubs select in the same order as their parent clubs.

(2) Secondary Phase—Selection is of free agents who had been drafted at a previous meeting, but who were not subsequently signed during the negotiation period. It is possible for a club to redraft a player whom it had been unable to sign after the original selection, but only with written consent of that player. Order of selection in the secondary phase is determined by lot.

CUBS' "HOME AWAY FROM HOME" IN ARIZONA

When baseball is in the air, but snow is still on the ground in the Midwest, the Chicago Cubs happily travel to the sunny Southwest each February to prepare for the rigors of the coming 162-game major league schedule. The Cubs began training at Scottsdale, Ari. in 1967. "The West's Most Western Town" boasts plenty of the primary ingredients needed for training: moderate temperatures and plenty of sunshine.

Scottsdale is located in the famous "Valley of the Sun" near booming Phoenix, Ari., the largest city in the great Southwest. The sun shines 86 percent of the daylight hours and the humidity rarely climbs above 20 percent—ideal circumstances for a spring training site.

The Cubs are one of eight teams that make up the so-called Cactus League, and one of four teams that train in the immediate Phoenix area (See inside front cover for location of other training bases).

Complete Facilities Make-Up Training Base

The parent club holds its spring workouts and plays its "home" spring games at Scottsdale Stadium, Osborn Road and Ball Park Plaza, just two blocks from downtown Scottsdale. The playing field is full-sized and of major league quality. The grandstand seats 4,200 fans.

Adjoining the playing field at the Stadium is a half-diamond—a complete infield to supplement the main field. Just a short distance from the Stadium a second, complete area is located for use by the Cubs' minor league clubs. It consists of complete locker facilities for the more than 100 aspiring young players who train there, as well as two full diamonds, another half-diamond, and a battery of batting cages.

Here players assigned to Cubs' minor league teams learn new skills which will prepare them for their seasons and hopefully one day help them to big league careers.

Winter Instructional Team Uses Same Base

Scottsdale Stadium is not just used for spring training by the Cubs. Each October, a team made-up of young players from every team in the organization convenes for a special training session called the "winter instructional camp." As in spring training, Scottsdale Stadium is home base for the winter instructional team, and it plays home games there against similar teams from other major league organizations.

Official hosts of the Cubs in Scottsdale are the "Charros," a group of civic-minded young businessmen associated with the Chamber of Commerce. Named for the gentried Spanish horsemen of a bygone era, they handle ticket sales, maintenance arrangements for the stadium, and a myriad of other details attendant to spring training.

HIGHLIGHTS OF CUBS HISTORY

The Chicago Cubs are rich in heritage. The team is most proud of the fact that it is the only one of the original eight charter members of the National League which has operated continuously in the same city in which it was franchised over 100 years ago.

One of the prime movers behind the establishment of the new National League in 1876 was William A. Hulbert, president of the Chicago Club. He was one of the early presidents of the League, and held the dual roles of league president and club president until his death in 1882.

The Chicago Club was known originally as the "White Stockings," although in those days nicknames were not official. About 1890 that name was dropped and the team was known by several nicknames, most notably the "Colts" and "Orphans." Legend has it that a newspaper writer, searching for a short nickname to fit a headline, first used the name "Cubs" in 1900. It was officially adopted as the nickname of the club in 1907.

Early in the 20th century the club came under the absentee ownership of the Taft family of Cincinnati, but following the 1915 season a group of influential Chicagoans, among them William Wrigley, Jr., purchased the club. Five years later, in 1921, Wrigley became majority stockholder. After the death of William Wrigley, Jr. in 1932, his son, Philip K. Wrigley, became majority stockholder.

NOTES ON CUBS HISTORY

In 101 National League seasons, the Cubs have played 14,701 games, not counting ties, and won 7,645 of them, both lifetime major league records.

The Cubs have won 16 National League pennants, second only to the Giants with 18.

The Cubs, as a team, have hit 100 or more home runs in 26 of their last 27 seasons.

The all-time major league record for wins in a season and winning percentage in a season is held by the 1906 Cubs, who won 116 and lost 36, for a .763 percentage.

The 1935 Cubs set the club record for consecutive wins in a season with 21 in a row.

The largest crowd ever to see a baseball game at Wrigley Field, was 51,556 on June 27, 1930, against Brooklyn. Of that number, however, 30,476 were Ladies Day guests and 1,332 passholders so the official paid crowd that day was only 19,748.

The largest Opening Day crowd at Wrigley Field, 44,818, attended the first game of the second century of National League baseball in Chicago, April 13, 1976.

PITCH, HIT & RUN YOUTH PROGRAM

Under the watchful eyes of the NRPA judges, Donald Biddy of Waltham, Mass., shows his pitching form for Major League Baseball's official youth program, Pitch, Hit & Run, sponsored by Thom McAn, in association with the National Recreation and Park Association (NRPA). The program has been developed in cooperation with the President's Council on Physical Fitness and Sports. Official registration takes place at all Thom McAn stores and participating dealers and runs from April 6 through May 22.

WRIGLEY FIELD—HOME OF THE CUBS

The Chicago Cubs have always made it a point to provide fans with the best possible facility in which to watch major league baseball in comfort and convenience, but at the same time, to retain the rich heritage of the Cubs and Wrigley Field. One of the few remaining parks in the major leagues that was designed for the sole purpose of playing baseball, Wrigley Field is still a place where fans are close to the action. This has not changed, even though the Cubs have spent more than $5,135,000 in recent years in improvements and modernization projects, excluding expenditures for each year's regular maintenance.

More than a half century of baseball tradition is present within the ivy-covered walls of Wrigley Field. After all, here is where Babe Ruth made his famous gesture toward the bleachers before slamming a homer there, where the Cubs' famed "murders row" of Rogers Hornsby, Hack Wilson, Kiki Cuyler, Riggs Stephenson, and Charlie Grimm pounded opposing pitchers, where Grover Cleveland Alexander, Dizzy Dean, Claude Passeau, Charley Root, Larry French, and Bill Lee toed the pitching rubber. Even in this day of instant communications, the Cubs still maintain the tradition of flying a flag bearing either a "W" or an "L" from atop the scoreboard after a game to inform a passerby of the outcome of the day's contest.

Early History of the Park

The Cubs moved to the present North Side location for the start of the 1916 season. The site had been the playing field for the Chicago Whales of the short-lived Federal League, which operated in 1914-15. The Cubs played their first game on the present site April 20, 1916, defeating Cincinnati 7-6 in 11 innings. The seating capacity was originally 14,000.

First major improvements were made in 1922-23 when the grandstand was moved back and enlarged, increasing the seating capacity to 20,000. Next, the park was double-decked in the winter of 1926-27, nearly doubling the seating capacity. During the summer of 1937 improved bleachers were constructed. Then, in 1938, wide chairs were installed in the boxes and grandstand. This added to fan comfort, reducing the park's total capacity by several thousand.

During the early years, the park was known simply as Cubs' Park. Then in 1926 it was officially named Wrigley Field in honor of William Wrigley, Jr.

In recent years, the lower grandstand in right field was turned-in so that fans sitting down the right field line would face home plate; the entire upper deck was completely re-constructed (in a four-year project that began in the winter of 1967-68 and was completed in the winter of 1970-71); and plastic, self rising, contour seats were installed in the lower deck reserved seating area, replacing folding chairs; along with many other improvement projects.

The Flags of Wrigley Field Tell a Story

At all Cubs home games Old Glory flies from the centerfield masthead, highest point in the park. The flags of the 12 National League cities, eight States, and Quebec fly at the Clark St. entrance.

Before and during each game, 12 pennants, one for each National League Club, fly from the yardarms in the order of the standings of each division on the morning of the game—the first place team in the East Division at top left, and the West Division leader at the right.

The Chicago Cubs flag—red and white on a blue background—displays 16 red stars representing the Cub's 16 National League Championships. The two blue stars represent the Cub's two World Championships.

Public Transportation is Easy and Convenient

Located at Clark and Addison Sts., 3600 North, 1000 West, Clark St. buses (No. 22) and Addison buses (No. 152) take you to main gates. CTA Rapid Transit trains ("L and subway) take you to 1/4 block from the ball park (Addison St. station). All northbound and southbound trains on the North-South Rapid Transit route stop at Addison on days of all Cubs home games throughout the season.

Ticket Information and Prices

Reserved seat tickets for all games are available by mail. Just send your order to Director of Ticket Services, Wrigley Field, Chicago, Ill. 60613. Available on the morning of every home game are more than 21,000 general grandstand and bleacher seats, for which no reservations are needed.

Reserved tickets can be purchased in advance at the Wrigley Field Ticket Office (Addison and Sheffield) and at Bond's downtown store (234 S. State St., near Jackson).

Reserved box seats are $5.00 for adults and children. Reserved grandstand seats are $4.00 for adults and children. General grandstand seats are $3.00 for adults and $1.50 for children under 14. Admission to the bleachers is $1.50 for all ages.

DUNLOP, Harry — WICHITA AEROS

Harry Dunlop brings 22 years of major-minor league experience to his new job: manager of the Wichita Aeros. He has spent the last eight years coaching in the majors, seven for the Kansas City Royals and last season for the Cubs. A catcher by trade, Dunlop devoted 14 seasons to playing, managing and coaching in the minors. Twice he earned Manager-of-the-Year recognition in 1963 and 1967 with two clubs in the California State League: Stockton and San Jose. Harry reached the peak of his playing career in 1958 when he hit .349 for Tucson.

SAUL, Jim — MIDLAND CUBS

Jim Saul spent the last two seasons as the bullpen coach for the Chicago Cubs, before being named manager of the Midland Cubs for the 1977 campaign. Jim played 14 seasons of professional baseball, leading all Pacific Coast League catchers with an amazing .997 fielding percentage for the 1963 season. Saul played and managed in the California Angels farm system and managed the Angels' instructional league teams twice. In 1972 he served as a player-coach for the Wichita Aeros.

HIATT, Jack — POMPANO BEACH CUBS

Jack Hiatt played 66 of his 483 major league games with the Cubs before concluding his eight year career in 1972. Besides the Cubs, Hiatt caught for the Angels, the Giants, the Expos and finally the Astros. After a player-coach role with the Wichita Aeros under Mike Roarke, Jack was named manager of the Cubs' Bradenton, Fla. Club in the Gulf Coast League (Rookie Class) in 1975. He also managed the Cubs' team in the Arizona Instructional League in the fall of 1975 earning his promotion to the Pompano Beach Club in the Class A Florida State League in 1976.

BLOOMFIELD, Jack — GENEVA CUBS

Jack Bloomfield spent the last two seasons as the Cubs first base coach and infield instructor. This year he has taken on new duties as manager for the Cubs' new Geneva affiliate and special assignment scouting duties. Jack launched a six-season playing career in the minors in 1955, and spent seven years in the Japanese major leagues where he recorded a .374 batting average in 1962. He served in the San Diego organization as a coach and scout and helped sign several of the players on the Padres roster.

HARTSFIELD, Bob — BRADENTON CUBS

Bob Hartsfield is entering his fourth season in managing and his first managerial assignment in the Cub organization. Bob's biggest baseball thrill was breaking into pro ball with a 21-game hitting streak. He was a scout for 11 years, starting with the Cubs in 1963 and working for Atlanta and San Francisco. He was the assistant baseball coach for Georgia Tech in 1964. Bob is the younger brother of Roy Harsfield, currently the manager for the Toronto Bluejays.

Aug. 6 (Sat) — Cap Day

The first 15,000 children under age 14 accompanied by a fully paid adult (i.e. each child-adult pair) will be given a Cub cap which is adjustable, high-quality replica of the one worn by a player.

ADAMS, Bobby — ROVING INSTR.

Bobby Adams spent 14 years in the major leagues prepping for his present position: teaching the art of infield play to the young players in the Cubs' affiliated clubs. They were one of four clubs Adams played for in the majors. The others were the Reds, his original club; the Orioles; and the White Sox. In 1966 Bobby moved into the executive end of baseball, serving six years as the president of the Cubs' Tacoma club, and one at Midland. Bobby returned to the field in 1973, and is presently in his fifth season in his latest role.

MARTIN, Fred — ROVING INSTR.

Fred Martin returns to the Cubs as a roving instructor after a one-year leave of absence. Fred's task is to help teach prospective major league pitchers some of the finer points in pitching and he has the credentials, this being his 41st year in pro ball. He began his remarkable playing career in 1935 with the Cardinals, and he was still active as a relief pitcher at the age of 44 (with Houston of the Texas League).

REISER, Pete — ROVING INSTR.

Pete Reiser was 21 years old when he won the National League batting championship in 1941 with a .343 average. Five years later he stole home seven times to establish a still-standing major league record. The man they call "Pistol Pete" did two stints as a Cub coach, staying four years the first time, and two years the second time. He is presently starting his fourth season as a roving hitting and outfield tutor in the Cubs' farm system. During his thrill-filled playing career with the Dodgers, Reiser twice led the National League in stolen bases.

ROARKE, Mike — ROVING INSTR.

Mike Roarke is in his second year as a roving instructor for pitchers in the Cub affiliated clubs. Mike brings 10 years of major league experience to his position, having been a four-year catcher and three-year coach for the Tigers. He also coached for the Angels for three years. Mike launched a five-year tenure as a minor league manager in 1971. He won the American Association championship in 1972 with the Tigers' Evansville club. Mike's first year with the Cubs was 1974 when he managed the Wichita Aeros.

DID YOU KNOW . . .

Adrian "Cap" Anson, a member of the first Cub team in the newly formed National League in 1876, was an active player for the Chicago club 22 consecutive years (1876-97), and hit over .300 for 20 of those 22 years—a record that has never been topped!

THE TWO AND ONLY.

These are the only official major league baseballs.
They were chosen because of the consistency of quality, durability and exacting manufacturing standards. While others claim to meet major league specifications, the fact remains that the American League and the National League chose only two.
Rawlings. And Rawlings, if it's their choice, shouldn't it be yours?

A Salute to "Mr. Cub"

This year's Chicago Cubs news media guide is dedicated to one of the most popular players in the history of the game of baseball, Mr. Ernest Banks.

"Ernie" will achieve the highest honor which may be bestowed on a player when he is inducted to the National Baseball Hall of Fame at Cooperstown, N.Y., on August 8, 1977.

The former shortstop, first baseman, and all-time home run king of the Cubs was selected on the first ballot of his eligibility. He will become the 26th player to have worn a Cub uniform and eventually gain this high distinction. See the table of contents for the complete list of former Cubs in the Hall of Fame.

Ernie, who was the only player to be elected this years in the regular balloting, received 321 of the 383 votes cast for an extremely high 84%. A total of 288 votes were required with former Brave star Eddie Mathews finishing behind Banks in the balloting with 239, or 49 shy.

Banks, with the selection, became the 55th player to be elected to the Hall of Fame by the Baseball Writers Association of America. He is only the eighth player, since the initial balloting round, to be chosen on the first round.

The others were: Ted Williams, Sandy Koufax, Mickey Mantle, Stan Musial, Warren Spahn, Bob Feller, and Jackie Robinson.

Banks, who is now the director of group sales at Wrigley Field, began his brilliant career with the Cubs in 1953 and retired as an active player in 1971 after 19 years and 2,528 games later.

He has set or tied dozens of records and has won countless honors. For example, he was named to the National League All-Star Team 13 times and was the loop's Most Valuable Player two straight seasons (1958-59). Until Cincinnati's Joe Morgan did in 1975-76, no other N.L. player had ever accomplished the latter.

Banks leads the Cubs in nine of 11 modern all-time offensive departments, including a career total of 512 home runs.

After he concluded his playing career on Sept. 26, 1971, he coached first base for several years and spent the last three years as a roving batting instructor in the Cubs' minor league system.

Many of his exciting achievements and career accomplishments are listed below:

Established following major league records: Most consecutive games played from start of major league career (424), September 17, 1953, through August 10, 1956; most home runs by shortstop, season (47), 1958; highest fielding percentage by shortstop, season (.985), 1959; fewest errors by shortstop, season (12), 1959.

Tied following major league records: Most home runs with bases full, season (5), May 11 and 29, July 17 (first game), August 2 and September 19, 1955; most games by first baseman, 162-game season (162), 1965; most sacrifice flies, game (3), June 2, 1961; most putouts by first baseman, game (22), May 9, 1963; most three-base hits, game (3), June 11, 1966.

Established National League record for most seasons leading in games played (6).

Hit three home runs in a game, August 4, 1955; September 14, 1957; May 29, 1962, and June 9, 1963.

Led National League in slugging percentage with .614 and in total bases with 379 in 1958; led league's shortstops in double plays with 94 in 1960; led league's first basemen in double plays with 134 in 1962.

Named Outstanding National League Player by "The Sporting News", 1958-59.

Names Most Valuable Player, National League, 1958-59.

Named shortstop on "The Sporting News" All-Star Major League Teams, 1955-58-59-60.

Named shortstop on "The Sporting News" National League All-Star fielding team, 1960.

SPECIAL EVENTS PLANNED FOR 1977 AT WRIGLEY FIELD

Date	Event	Restrictions/Remarks
Apr. 10 (Sun)	Ladies Bonnet Day	The first 15,000 ladies accompanied by a fully paid adult male (i.e. each female-male pair) will receive a blue, wide-brim, foldable hat which has the Cubs' "C" on front.
May 7 (Sat)	Jacket Day	The first 15,000 children under age 14 accompanied by a fully paid adult (i.e. each child-adult pair) will receive a blue, vinyl, windbreaker-type Cub jacket. The 10-gauge jackets will have a large "Cubs" logo on the front left side similar to the one worn by the Cub players on their uniforms.
May 29 (Sun)	Men's Sport Hat Day	The first 15,000 boys and men accompanied by a fully paid adult female (i.e. each male-female pair) will receive a very popular and versatile Cub hat. It is blue with a heavily stitched brim that completely encircles the crown permitting one to wear it flipped up, down or both. It easily folds to fit the pocket.
June 11 (Sat)	Helmet Day	The first 15,000 children under age 14 accompanied by a fully paid adult (i.e. each child-adult pair) will be given a plastic helmet which is an adjustable souvenir replica of the Cubs' batting helmet.
June 25 (Sat)	Old Timers' Game	A three-inning contest between the Cub old timers and members of the Hall of Fame prior to the regular scheduled game.
July 6 (Wed)	T-Shirt Day	Cub T-shirts will be given to the first 15,000 children under age 14 accompanied by a fully paid adult (i.e. each child-adult pair).
July 24 (Sun)	Pennant Day	Cub pennants will be presented to the first 15,000 children under age 14 accompanied by a fully paid adult (i.e. each child-adult pair). The pennants are new for 1977 and are sold exclusively at Wrigley Field.
Aug. 6 (Sat)	Cap Day	The first 15,000 children under age 14 accompanied by a fully paid adult (i.e. each child-adult pair) will be given a Cub cap which is adjustable, high-quality replica of the one worn by a player.
Sept. 5 (Mon)	Jacket Day	Just in time for the windy autumn breezes while walking to school. Same restrictions as for Jacket Day on May 7.
